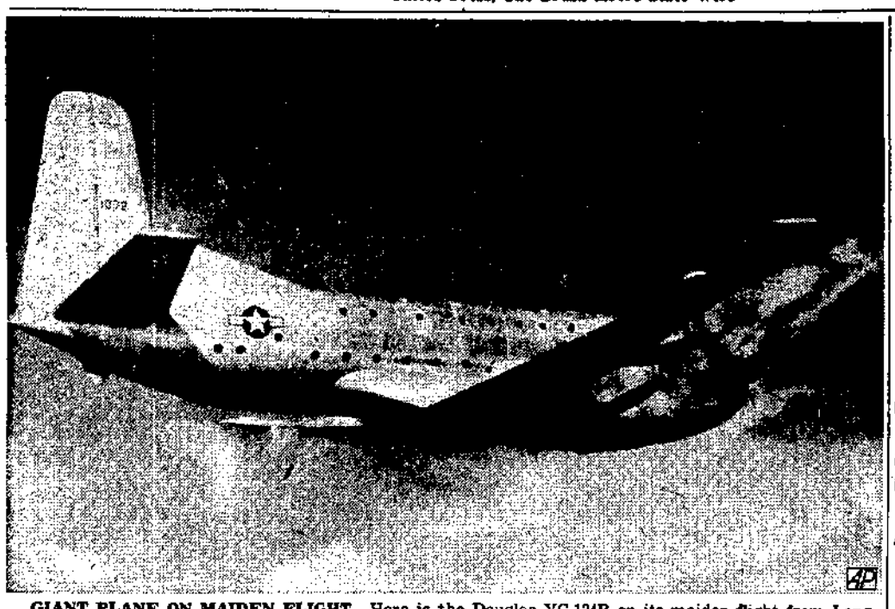
Ike Rips Talk of Recession, Scorns 'Prophets of Doom'



GIANT PLANE ON MAIDEN FLIGHT. Here is the Douglas YC-124B on its maiden flight from Long Beach, Calif., to Edwards Air Force Base at Muroc. It is the first four-engine turbo-prop transport developed for the Air Force. The new plane has a greater speed and will carry more payload than the famed C-124 Globemaster on which its design is based.

Man, 72, Killed In Kenton Fire; 5 Horses Lost

Silas Dildine Succumbs After $8,000 Blaze At Hardin Fairgrounds

KENTON — A 72-year-old Kenton man died at 3:10 a.m. today from burns suffered Thursday night in an $8,000 blaze at the Hardin County fairgrounds in which five race horses and two prized dogs suffocated.

Silas Dildine, 72, of Kenton, died this morning at Hardin Memorial Hospital of severe burns which he suffered on his chest, arms, back stomach, and face before Kenton firemen could rescue him from the stable at the fairgrounds.

Cigaret Blamed

Fire Chief Ralph Jones' department said the fire broke out in one of the stalls where Dildine apparently dropped a lighted cigarette after dozing off to sleep. Dildine was a familiar figure around the race track. He was once employed for 25 years by M. L. Anderson, owner of two of the horses which perished in the blaze.

Passersby, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hudson of Kenton, who were returning home on Route 68, noticed flames shooting from the roof of the stable about 9 p.m. Thursday. The fairgrounds are located at the south edge of Kenton, midway between Routes 68 and 31. At first the couple thought the fire department had already arrived but soon discovered they were the first ones at the scene. The notified Harold Decker, who lives nearby, and the fire department was summoned.

By the time firemen arrived, the blaze had made considerable progress. The 72-year-old man was carried from the burning stable by firemen and eight valuable horses on the other side of the building were moved when flames threatened their stalls. Some 30 horses were being housed at the fairgrounds for the winter.

Three-Hour Battle

Firemen fought the blaze for over three hours with a water tank truck and pumper. Water had to be hauled to the blaze since there was no suitable water supply available.

The fire fighters were unable to save the five horses which were overcome by smoke when flames gutted several of the concrete stalls, burning out the wooden ceilings and floors.

Severe Quake Rocks Mexico

Toll Rises as Tremor Jolts Area of 50 Miles

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A strong earthquake wrecked four towns in the tropical, coffee-growing state of Chiapas yesterday, killed many persons and spread damage and terror over an area 50 miles in diameter, a dispatch from Tuxtla Guitierrez said today.

Mercy planes were reported flying doctors, nurses, medicines and other supplies to the stricken zone, in the rugged jungle country centered 70 miles northeast of Tuxtla Guitierrez, the capital, and about 190 miles west of the Guatemalan frontier. Communications were disrupted.

The first word to reach Mexico City came in a delayed telegram from a newspaper correspondent in the state capital. He offered no estimate of the total casualties or damage, but said the towns of Yajalon, Tita, Petalcingo and Chilon were hard hit by the midmorning quake and hillsides crumbled.

Dulles To Ask

Soviet Help Sought On Peace in Korea

BERLIN (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has decided to ask Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov to use his influence with the Chinese Communists in an effort to break the Panmunjom deadlock on a Korean peace conference.

Dulles will make his move in Big Four secret talks here Monday.

At that time the question of Korea is to be brought up among the foreign ministers in connection with a Soviet proposal for a Big Five conference, including Communist China.

U. S. Position Stated

The United States position, diplomatic informants said, is that the American government will categorically reject any five-power conference which is of such a character as to recognize the Chinese Communist regime as one of the great powers. But it is willing to deal with Red China on specific and limited issues which can only be handled in that way.

A Communist crackdown on East German workers speaking out against Molotov's plan for the unification of Germany paralleled today's final session of the second week of the Big Four conference.

East German police made scores of arrests. Interior Minister Willi Stoph, directing the crackdown, warned at an East Berlin rally last night that the Red government "will sharply suppress every attempt to disrupt democratic development of the republic." The warning came as a caution against any German demonstrations during the weekend recess of the Big Four.

Outbursts of opposition, all relatively feeble, developed in five scattered East German cities in the past five days. They were simply shouts of protest against speakers lauding the declaration by Molotov that the best way to unite Germany and prevent a resurgence of Hitlerism was to pattern a new united nation after police-dominated East Germany.

The Molotov plan, pegged to the idea of forming a provisional government in which the Communists would have an equal voice with the West Germans, has brought the Big Four parley to a near stall.

The three Western ministers, with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles as leadoff man, declared that unless Molotov was ready to negotiate instead of lecture and denounce, there was little value in talking further at this meeting about uniting Germany.

Not Ready To Quit

The Western ministers said clearly they had had enough of it. But not Molotov. In his concluding word at last night's session, he demanded further discussion of Germany's future.

So today's final session of the second week of the conference was given over to the problem.

There was little else on the day's program. By agreement, the four ministers, each with three advisers, will go into restricted session Monday.

There, if any concessions are to be made by either side to ease world tension, they can be made on a give-and-take basis with the results to be announced afterward.

Already up for discussion in the restricted session are Molotov's proposal for a five-power meeting with Red China and a disarmament conference.

Senator Raps Move Delaying Test on Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today that any move to avoid a Senate showdown in this session of Congress on the controversial Bricker treaty-power amendment would merely "perpetuate the issue" in politics.

George, who told the Senate yesterday President Eisenhower cannot defend his opposition to a provision giving Congress a check on executive agreements, said in an interview he is going to continue to work to get a constitutional amendment passed. He has offered his own version.

The Senate, in recess over the weekend, will resume debate Monday on a proposal by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) with the understanding it will not attempt to reach any

Half Inch of Snow Falls Here, More Is Forecast

Another half-inch of snow fell in Marion and area last night, adding to the little more than an inch of snow still on the ground from the sudden snowfall early Thursday morning.

More snow flurries are forecast for tonight and Sunday with rather cold temperatures. The low is expected to be about 22.

High temperature Friday was 34 with the low last night 23. A year ago, the maximum reading was 45 and the minimum 40.

Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest said service department street salting crews were called out at 12:30 a.m. today and remained on the streets until 3 a.m. They were called back out at 6 a.m. to continue salting and cindering main thoroughfares, he said.

Pope Improves Very Slightly, Doctor Reports

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII shows symptoms of a very slight improvement, but "the state of general weakness persists," his private doctor announced today.

The doctor, Prof. Riccardo Galeassi-Lisi, said the Pope passed "a moderately fair" night.

A Vatican spokesman, Msgr. Angelo Dell'acqua of the secretary of state's office, said there was hope the enfeebled pontiff, 77, might be able better to take some nourishment.

The Pope's trouble keeping down food has caused anxiety. To help maintain his strength, he has been fed intravenously.

The Rome newspaper Il Tempo said the Pope, the spiritual leader of 400 million Roman Catholics throughout the world, had not left his bed in his third floor apartment in the Vatican Palace since he was stricken Jan. 25. He tried to rise once or twice, the newspaper said, but was too feeble to do so.

Prof. Galeazzi-Lisi, in issuing yesterday the first bulletin he had ever released on the Pope's health, revealed a hope that it would be possible soon to "repeat particular x-ray examinations" of the stomach and other nearby organs.

Prof. Galeazzi-Lisi hurried to the pontiff's bedside early this morning. He had left at 10 p.m. last night to get some sleep.

NEW YORK (AP)—A smoky fire raged for an hour yesterday through the nine-floor annex of the 36-story New York Daily News Bldg. but the paper's first edition came out only a half hour later than usual.

6 Injured, 3 Seriously, in 4-Car Crash

Five Passengers Hurt In One Auto; Occurs On Route 23 Near City

Six persons were injured, three of them seriously, in a four-car collision shortly before 11 a.m. today near Brush Ridge, north of Marion on Route 23.

Five of these six were in one automobile. They were Mrs. Venetta Ellis, 27, of near Upper Sandusky, the driver; her two children, James, 4, and Karen, 6; her mother, Mrs. Lois Lee, 46, of Sycamore; and another passenger, Miss Dorothy Scott, 25, of Nevada.

The sixth person injured was Claude Cook, 59, of Waldo, who was a passenger in another car driven by his son, Doyle Cook.

Listed by Marion City Hospital as the most seriously injured were Mrs. Lee, with a fractured left leg; James Ellis, with a fractured collar bone; and Claude Cook, with lacerations and possible internal injuries.

Drivers of the other two cars, as reported by investigating officers from the state highway patrol, were D. D. Fink, 30, of Upper Sandusky, and Willie H. Watson, 29, of Detroit, Mich.

Details of the accident were not available at press time. Patrol

Wyandot Auto Crash Fatal to J. R. McMillan

UPPER SANDUSKY — James R. McMillan, 36, of about eight miles west of Upper Sandusky, was killed instantly Friday night when his car skidded off an icy road 1.9 miles west of here on county road 53.

According to the Morrow County Sheriff's department, the car ran off the north side of the road and through a fence, traveling a distance of about 150 feet before coming to a stop in a field on the Harvey Gatchel farm. The car overturned and McMillan was pinned beneath it, the sheriff's office said. He was alone in the car.

The accident occurred about 9:15 as McMillan, a painter, was returning home. He had been assisting with painting a floor in a remodeling job at the Eagles hall in Upper Sandusky. His home is about six miles from where the accident occurred.

McMillan suffered a broken neck, back and right leg and also internal injuries. His body was removed in the Bringman and Co. ambulance and later taken to the Bristoll Funeral Home in Carey where funeral arrangements are being made.

Among the survivors are his widow and two small sons.

"OH, HOW WE WAITED FOR THIS DAY." This is the Michael Hvasta family together in their home in Hillside, N. J., after receiving the news they had waited five years to hear—that their son and brother, John, an American prisoner in Communist Czechoslovakia was freed again. Left to right are Mr. Hvasta; Stephen, 23, brother of the freed youth and his mother. John, a Navy veteran, went to his homeland to study under the GI Bill of Rights, was arrested on espionage charges and sentenced to 10 years in prison.

Thank God for Escape From Czechs

Mother, Family Joyfully Greet Hvasta at Idlewild

NEW YORK (AP) —John Hvasta came back to his mother's arms today and said it was "with God's help" that he escaped from a Czech prison and eluded Red police for many months.

The 26-year-old Navy veteran from Hillside, N. J., home for first time in more than five years, embraced his mother at Idlewild Airport and cried: "Thank God, thank God, thank God."

Embraces Son

Mrs. Michael Hvasta, the mother, tearfully hugged and kissed her son while other members of his family and officials from his home town crowded around to welcome the young man.

Hvasta, wearing a loose blue suit, appeared pale.

To reporters, he said:

"I'm glad to be home. Anybody that's been in the situation I have been in really knows what it feels like to be home."

But he declined to give any details of his imprisonment on espionage charges while studying in Czechoslovakia and his subsequent escape, his game of hide and seek with the police and his refuge in the American Embassy.

Will Publish Story

He said he had been "scribbling" his story while at the embassy and that he intended to publish it.

"I intend to reveal everything I have," he said.

Hvasta said, however, an account of his escape experiences "will come soon from the embassy."

Reporters asked him if he had been in touch with his Czech wife, Gabriella Bansova Hvasta, who has been reported missing.

"No," he said softly, his eyes filling with tears.

Stephen Hvasta, 23, his brother, interceded at this point and asked reporters to refrain from any more questions.

The escapee began the brief news conference by saying:

"Well, listen, fellows, I want to thank anyone who has helped me in the past days to get out of Czechoslovakia."

He said he particularly had received help from Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr. (D-NJ); U. Alexis Johnson, American ambassador to Czechoslovakia, and George Wads-

Plane Crashes In Bay, 13 Safe

Rescue Boat Guided Through Fog by Radar

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A big Air Force C121 "flying radar station" crashed in fogbound San Francisco Bay last night and a radar-guided crash boat rescued all 13 crewmen.

Two of the men were reported injured, one seriously.

The rescue boat, unable to return to Hamilton Air Force Base because of heavy fog, landed at Ft. Baker near the northern end of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The four-engine Super Constellation, flying out of McClellan Field near Sacramento, plunged into the bay about two miles from the end of the Hamilton runway as it attempted a ground control approach (radar) landing.

The crash boat, groping in the bay for survivors, was led to the plane wreckage by ground radar facilities from Hamilton.

The rescue operation was completed about 1½ hours after the plane went down.

The modified Constellation —known as an RC121C—was commanded by Lt. Col. Russell E. Cheever of San Antonio, Tex., who served as instructor pilot. The entire crew was learning how to operate the radar-loaded plane.

4,500 at Canton Hear McCarthy

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) says the Democratic party has "irrevocably labeled itself" as standing for government by "Communists crooks and cronies."

In a speech last night before some 4,500 persons attending a Lincoln Day meeting, the Wisconsin senator said Democratic leaders had tried to "scare the country into a depression," so they may win an election. The speech was the second of nine he is making on a tour of the nation.

Flays Critics Before 6,500 At Party Rally

President Speaks Out, Pledges 'Partnership,' Takes Stand on Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has advised Americans to ignore "prophets of gloom" and has promised them a "big brother partner in the federal government."

Addressing a cheering throng of more than 6,500 at a GOP box supper last night, Eisenhower sailed into Democratic predictions of hard times, saying "The United States doesn't need to fail."

And he emphasized he wants to conduct the presidency under the Constitution "in the same general form" as it now stands.

Takes on Critics

He spoke only 12 minutes. In that time he took on two sets of critics—those, like former President Harry S. Truman, who say the country is now in a recession, and those who have been calling for a constitutional amendment that would limit the scope of treaties and give Congress more control over international agreements.

"We don't have to listen to the prophets of gloom who say we are going into this or that kind of stumble or fall," he declared as the crowd cheered.

Then, without mentioning by name Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), whose constitutional amendment on treaty powers he has opposed, Eisenhower said:

"We must make certain that the genius of our Constitution and our government shall not perish, that it shall belong . . . to those who come after us in the same general form that it has been received by us."

Bricker, who had preceded Eisenhower to the speakers' platform, touched off a roar of laughter when he alluded to the "family troubles" he said the Republicans have had.

'I Like Ike'

"My Republican friends, I like Ike," he declared. The crowd howled approval.

Bricker said there had been "honest differences of opinion" but that the GOP has "a singleness of purpose."

"Let me make one thing clear," he said. "There is not now nor will there be, any split in the Republican party."

The President's brief sally against those who predict a further economic downturn was in line with repeated statements by administration and Republican party leaders that the country is undergoing no more than an adjustment which will run a natural course without serious trouble.

However, echoing the expressed

Truman Scoffs At 'Miracles' GOP Pledged

Says Farm Recession Spreading to Cities In Address to ADA

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said last night that "The recession that started on the farms last spring has already spread to the city streets—and a depression would do likewise." He scoffed at the "miracles" he said were promised by the Republican party.

In a speech before the Americans for Democratic Action, Truman said, "I don't think there is any necessity for a depression."

'No Miracles' Possible

"One thing is clear by now after a year of the Eisenhower administration," Truman said, "and that is the Republican party is not made up of miracle workers.

". . . I have been watching and waiting for those miracles to happen that we were promised back in 1952. But there is something wrong somewhere. There seems to be a slight delay in the miracle business."

Truman ripped into the present administration's income tax cut, terming it "a rich man's tax relief measure if I ever heard of one."

"It seems to me strange that the President's economic report says that there is no real recession," Truman continued, ". . . but that we are not prosperous enough or sure enough of the future to increase the minimum wage."

Income Level Declines

The income level of the farmer and working man are beginning to decline, he said, "compared to the share of the businessman and the corporations and the landlords. Our national wealth is being distributed in reverse, from the poor to the rich."

Truman spoke to a nationwide (CBS) radio audience as well as to the more than 1,000 persons at the ADA banquet in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The former President called the GOP search for Communists in government "one of the biggest

Woman, Seven Children Die In Home Blaze

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Fire raced through a four-room frame house here early today, killing seven children and the mother of four of the youngsters.

Neighbors told of watching helplessly while the panic-stricken children ran through the home, seeking to escape the flames.

The dead were identified as:

Mrs. Evelyn Lillard, 30; her four children, Linda, 6; Kay, 4; Barbara, 2, and Johnny Jr., 5 months; and Gary Letterman, 4; Linda Lee Letterman, 10, and Sandra Kay Letterman, 11.

The Letterman children had been staying at the Lillard home while their mother, Mrs. Dorothy Letterman, was at a Springfield hospital with another son who is critically ill with a brain tumor. She is divorced from the children's father.

John Lillard, 28, the father of the Lillard children, escaped from the blazing home but suffered severe burns. He told police his wife awakened him and told him the house was on fire but he said he did not know how he managed to escape from the flaming structure. He was in serious condition at a hospital.

Origin of the fire was not determined.

Changes Needed

State Approves Hospital As Possible City Hall Site

Plans of Marion Mayor Harold F. Robinson foreseeing the possible conversion of City Hospital for use as a city hall were tentatively approved today by the State Department of Industrial Relations, division of factory and building inspection.

Mayor Robinson said he received a letter from R. A. Skipton, acting chief of the inspection division, in which the approval of the proposed use of the hospital building was given.

SKIPTON WROTE that the building was found in good condition during a recent inspection and ruled "it could be converted into an office building" providing necessary alterations were made.

He also said that "plans for any alterations shall be submitted to this division for inspection and approval."

Mayor Robinson said that this tentative approval does not necessarily mean the city hall will be moved to the hospital building. He said he had requested an inspection of the building to determine whether it could be used without extensive remodeling.

"WE ARE ALSO CHECKING other methods of improving city hall facilities," Mayor Robinson said. Other plans proposed for providing municipal government with adequate facilities are to remodel and enlarge present quarters in the Eagle's Building on W. Center St. building a new city hall and municipal parking garage on the city-owned parking lot at W. Church and S. Prospect Sts. and finding other facilities in some other building.

Robinson said he and other city officials are investigating all plans thoroughly in an attempt to de

When Mrs. Nellie Harris, ritual chairman for Women of the Moose, held her chapter night program Tuesday night at the lodge hall, Capt. Fred L. Nelson Jr. of the Marion Engineer Depot told of his experiences in Korea. New members were initiated. A group from the lodge took part recently in ritualistic ceremonies at the Mid-Winter Conference for the College of Regents in Columbus.

President of District 10 VFW Auxiliary from Galion, Mrs. Ann Phillips, was present at a meeting of the Marion Auxiliary to Geran-Thomas Post 3313, VFW, held Wednesday night in the club rooms on Court St. Discussion was held on the district meeting to be held here on March 6 and 7, Mrs. Eileen Alexander presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Helen Burklew, who has been ill.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Shields of 368 Avondale Ave. are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ruth Ann to Sheridan Simpkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Simpkins of 461 Dennison Ave. The wedding took place Jan. 16 in Liberty, Ind., with Rev. R. E. Darwin, pastor of the Church of Christ, reading the ceremony. The bride wore a blue suit, black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Simpkins, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom. They are making their home with the bride's parents. The bridegroom is employed at the Marion Industries plant.

Courtright Named Commerce Adviser

John P. Courtright, president and general manager of Marion Power Shovel Company, was sworn in Monday in Washington D. C. as adviser to a division of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

He will be a consultant, without compensation, on mining equipment for the agriculture, construction and mining equipment division of the Department of Commerce.

Mr. Courtright was sworn in Monday afternoon by Charles F. Honeywell, administrator of the business and defense service administration of the Department of Commerce. Mr. Courtright has long been active in power shovel industry activities and in 1953 served as chairman of the manufacturers division of the American Mining Congress. He presently is a member of the board of directors of the American Mining Congress.

Discarded Cigaret Causes Truck Fire

A fire in a furniture delivery truck believed caused by a cigaret resulted in an estimated loss of some $750 Friday afternoon, Marion firemen reported today.

The fire broke out while Richard Bevans of Columbus and a helper, Roy Fristies, also of Columbus were driving along Barks Rd. near state route 529 south of Marion.

Mark St. station firemen using the Marion Township pumper truck answered the alarm at 2:10 p.m.

They said the fire evidently was caused by a cigaret accidentally dropped into some packing material around some of the furniture in the truck. They estimated damage to the truck at $500 and loss to the furniture at $250.

Bevans and Fristies were delivering furniture in Marion County for the Furniture Warehouse, Inc. of Columbus. The truck was owned by William Forsythe of Columbus.

ASKS BUS STOPS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state utilities commission is considering a request by Tipp City residents that Great Lakes Division of Greyhound reinstate four Tipp City stops. The bus company changed schedules Jan. 12, eliminating the stops from its Detroit-Cincinnati and points south runs.

Change Needed

By George Sokolsky

I do not work for the National Broadcasting Company and therefore ought not to tell them what to do. My broadcasts are carried by the American Broadcasting Company, which shows no particular excitement about my superior effort.

SOKOLSKY

In spite of all this, I have a fan's privilege. My particular gripe is that NBC has abolished "Music Through The Night," the program to which I listened most and which ran from 1 a.m. to 6 a.m., hours particularly valuable to me when one can think without intrusions except for the background of the best music while I work.

ITS MASTER OF ceremonies was Harry Fleetwood. Fleetwood possesses two unusual virtues: 1. He speaks English, a rare gift these days; 2. He possesses a kindly, gentle voice and a cultivated manner.

Regarding his first virtue, the ability to speak English, I want to say that Fleetwood's accent is American, not British, but it is unaffected, un - Harvarized, un-New York English. It rings like the educated clergy at the beginbecoame ashamed of what used to be called elocution. It was a delightful relief at about 2:30 a.m. because Fleetwood's voice was of the music.

Occasionally, we were interrupted by spaghetti and macaroni and such. The other night, I heard a jingle about such stuff in the vicinity of "Eine Kleine Nachtmusic" and ridded myself of macaoni and spaghetti forevermore. On second thought, this sort of thing is better than government subsidies which corrupt, so I shall change my mind and eat the spaghetti and die of diabetes before my time.

FLEETWOOD IS NO more. I do not know whether he lost interest in the night or whether my friend, General David Sarnoff, moved him to day work. I do not ask, lest I lose faith in mankind. Many good things on radio, like Fleetwood's or Richard English's "Last Man Out," are never adequately sponsored and therefore are shifted about to make room for the more popular accelerators of the human mind.

The very best drama on the air is "Last Man Out," the story of Americans who had forsaken their country, its traditions, its beliefs, its hopes and aspirations and who after great travail, have returned to their own people. I listen to "Last Man Out" as often as I can because it interests me more than the ineffable yapping and yipping that some of my family leave on when they forget to turn the radio off.

There must be thousands of people who enjoy the yip and the yap, the dissonance of modern Tin Pan Alley, particularly the current version of the barber shop quartette, usually sung by unmatched female voices. In fact, recently a friend and I were in a betting mood to determine whether a certain famous vocalist (a perfect word, for he is not a singer) is a tenor or a baritone. We finally decided that the so-called voice is a broken falsetto of a high school vintage somehow retained in middle age. Yet, such a rarity is amost heroic in his popularity and advertising agencies and sponsors vie with each other to obtain 13 minutes and 50 seconds of his time, so that in the interval they might advertise their wares.

AT ANY RATE, some very fine programs suffer from the commercial policy of radio, which is so different from a newspaper in that on the radio the entertaining or educational item is directly sponsored by advertising rather than, as in the newspaper, the advertisement is run independently. The result is that advertisers, perhaps correctly, shun the controversial on the theory that everybody, more or less, uses soap and why involve such an article of commerce in dialectics? Why not clothe it with song or murder or the psycho-analytical justification for legalized plural marriages? It never occurs to these program designers that a controversy could arise if parents asked themselves if their children ought to listen to all this degrading stuff — particularly the large portfolio of murders.

This started as an obituary notice for my favorite program, "Music Through the Night," given by Fleetwood, who speaks English, wandered to "Last Man Out," a dramatization of excellent value and purpose, and landed on my constant protest against bad programs for children sponsored by amoral merchants. I have to summarize it because, like a radio program, it has drifted all over the place. But you will get the point, I am sure.

Bridges' Drive

By Victor Riesel

There is one line the racketeers on the New York waterfront are not refusing to unload today — that's the Soviet line now being peddled them by Harry Bridges.

RIESEL

Just as the pro-Communists inside labor have always worked with the mobs — from the days of Murder, Inc. and the Black Gloves in the garment and fur industries — so they are now throwing money, manpower, secret agents and brains into the fight to keep the strategic gateway to Eastern United States in the hands of what has been called an underworld union.

Publicly, Harry Bridges has said of the old mob-ridden International Longshoremen's Association,

"We wish them luck. We pledge them what support we can offer to help them get the job done.

SECRETLY, BRIDGES has sent relay teams into the New York port to infiltrate some locals, work with the notorious "Pistol Local," distribute literature quietly printed in Philadelphia and trucked into New York — and, especially, to attempt to plant leftwingers in Negro longshoremen's units.

From now on there can no longer be any reason for John Lewis or the handful of leaders atop the old Longshoremen's Union, whom he is backing, to fail to repudiate support from men who have been charged before congressional committees with being agents of the Comintern.

It would be disastrous if, amid the turbulence on the waterfront, Bridges succeeded in placing his men where they could pull strikes some day by throwing up a handful of pickets. Or, if he could provoke political demonstrations by secretly stirring up dissatisfaction on the piers of this vast military and naval shipping center.

Harry's boys are in. They're known. They're watched. They're in the hands of a chap calling himself Mable, who operates from Manhattan's South Street and eats regularly in a beanery at 14th Street near Eighth Ave.

THE BOYS HAVE come in from San Francisco in two-man teams. At times Harry has flown in, too. He has left word that he can be reached through Joe Selly, head of the American Communications Association, a union now being probed by the U.S. Senate.

Bridges beds down at the home of a friend or in a Manhattan hotel in the seventies on Broadway, near which many a courier met many a top Soviet intelligence officer in years past.

One of these teams in from the West Coast is made up of a fellow calling himself Richardson and another man naming himself Bjourne Halling.

According to the congressional data, Bjourne Halling, of 596 Page St., San Francisco, is a longshoreman born in Norway in 1909. He has been accused before a congressional committee of attending at least one Communist waterfront cell meeting in the Fall of 1944. Halling stood immobile and silent on the Fifth Amendment when asked about Communist affiliations.

THERE IS ANOTHER team made up of men named Malenkov and Washington, if you'll forgive me the phrase. They were assigned, among other things, to infiltrate Negro locals.

These Sovieteering teams, which have been operating on the East Coast during the past five weeks, also distribute something called the "Dockers News," a pro-Communist line "newspaper."

It is published in Philadelphia and rushed into New York at night by car or truck. The boys picked Philadelphia because it is somewhat midway along the coast. They can swing south to nearby Baltimore, which also handles an enormous amount of vital foreign cargo.

Just where these men are now, I can't say, but as fast as they are recognized, Bridges replaces them. Recently they tried to infiltrate the crusading AFL dockside unions led by the husky, young seafarer Paul Hall, into whose blond crop of hair, this night and day fight has put some premature gray. The Sovieteering teams were discovered.

THEY MOVED out fast. However, they did find a beach-head in the Pistol Local, which handles Mid-Manhattan piers and in a Brooklyn Negro unit of the old Longshoremen's Assn.

And what says Harry Bridges of all the crusading on the East Coast?

"We should put our chips on the longshoremen," says Harry, referring to the old union, still filled with the toughest mobs.

What says the man about the crusaders? He calls them a collection of "lousy politicians and bum labor leaders . . ."

What price, revolution, Harry.

Radio Tycoon

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

The charm of old things never disappears.

Many children growing up in the television era now are discovering and enjoying an antique, old-fashioned form of home entertainment their parents have appreciated for some years. It is called radio.

HAL BOYLE

"The kids are going back to radio," said Johnny Sinn. "There are some programs they like better on radio because they can imagine the scenes better than if they are shown on a screen."

—:—

One of his own children for example, prefers hearing the horse opera, "Cisco Kid," on radio to watching it on television. This intrigues Johnny beyond the normal interest of a parent in what takes his kid's fancy. The "Cisco Kid" happens to be one of many famous characters who walk, talk or gallop for Johnny on either radio, television or both.

He is a top man in the destiny if radio as well as television, and sees a prosperous future for each, although he predicts radio will become the more localized medium.

You probably never heard of John L. Sinn. But he has thought of you, wherever you are. He has studied you for many years harder than he ever studied his primer in school. He wants to know how to make you laugh and cry—and afterward to go out and buy things.

At 38 he is one of the bigger figures in the world of entertainment, and one of the least known to the public. But you'll hear more of him. He might look like the guy who lives next door to you, if you are lucky enough to have a pleasant neighbor with a receding hairline, dark eyes, a wide but determined mind, and a sensitive willingness to hear your brag before he says what he knows to be so.

Johnny travels about 100,000 miles a year between New York, Timbuktu, and Hollywood. He and his partner, Fred W. Ziv, produce —at the moment—23 weekly radio and 12 television shows. They have 500 employes, their own Hollywood studio.

Two years ago their gross gulp was estimated by "Variety" at 20 million dollars annually, perhaps a modest figure today when their programs are on at least 1,500 of the nation's 2,500 radio outlets and some 145 television markets.

Some of the programs Johnny Sinn never has to worry about getting tickets to are "Boston Blackie," "Mr. District Attorney," "The Hour Stars." They are his.

He recently signed Red Skelton in a three million dollar deal. Among the other stars who work for him—no movie studio could match the list—are Guy Lombardo, Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Tony Martin, Ginger Rogers, Dick Haymes, Robert Montgomery, Adolphe Menjou, and Tyrone Power.

Yet only 18 years ago Sinn quit college in his junior year to take a $25 a week job in radio station WLW in Cincinnati.

"It was a fantastic job," he recalled. "In those days in radio you did everything. You wrote shows, produced shows, announced news —anything that had to be done. And it was all wonderful."

How did he leap from $25 a week to a partnership in a 20-million-a-year-or-plus firm? It began with a gimmick, or, as they say in the advertising field, an idea.

Johnny thought up a program for a local bakery firm called "The Freshest Thing in Town" that caught on well. He and Fred Ziv, owner of an advertising agency, decided to try to get other bakeries in other towns to buy it. The idea worked.

"We just went on from there," Sinn recalled. "As we brought in more money, we created more programs, hired bigger stars, sold our shows to more stations. We put them on tape in radio, film in television later.

Johnny, who started off by writing his own shows, then said:

"Gee, you know the really biggest decision in my life was whether to quit college before getting my degree? But it was exactly the job I hoped to get after I finished college. I feel I did what I had to. What would you have done?"

Well, personally, I stayed in college and got two degres. But I didn't tell Johnny. A guy pulling in 20 million dollars a year has enough worries without me adding to his feeling of interfiority.

Fire was almost universally believed to be an element during the Middle Ages, although studies disproving such theories had been made as early as the Fourth Century B.C.

News of Servicemen

Pfc. Gerald Lane, who is serving with the 40th Infantry Division as a military policeman in Korea, called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lane of near Marion, by long distance Tuesday night from Japan where he was on a rest leave. Entering the service on March 13, 1953, he took his basic training at Camp Gordon, Ga., and arrived overseas last August. He attended Pleasant High School and was employed at the Commercial Steel Co. prior to entering the service.

Cpl. James G. Beidler, serving with the Army in Korea, was promoted to his present rating Jan. 14, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Melby of 246 Summit St. He is assigned as assistant squad leader in Company K, 9th Infantry Regiment, Second Division. In Korea since Sept. 5, his present duty has been patrolling the demilitarized zone. Prior to entering service, he was employed at the Marion Engineer Depot.

Army Pvt. Robert E. Craft, son of Mrs. Laura B. Craft of 900 Bellefontaine Ave., recently arrived for duty at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., home of the Command and General Staff College. Craft, who previously served with the Army of Occupation Forces in Tokyo, Japan, for nearly three years, is now a dental technician with the post's medical detachment. Before entering the army in March, 1949, he attended Edison Junior High School and was employed at a local bakery. He took his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and was stationed in Washington, D.C., for two months prior to going overseas.

Cpl. James A. Blankenship, who has been stationed at Camp Gordon, and Mrs. Blankenship have arrived from Augusta, Ga. to spend the former's 15-day leave with relatives and friends here. Cpl. Blankenship, who recently completed his technical training at the Southeastern Signal School at Camp Gordon is being transferred to Camp Kilmer, N. J. for overseas duty. He is the son of Mrs. Joseph Ballard of 798 N. Main St. Prior to going into service he was employed as a storekeeper at the Marion Engineer Depot. He was stationed at Ft. Meade, Md. before going to the southern camp. Mrs. Blankenship, the former Miss Shirley Severns, will make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Severns, 381 Fahey St. until joining Cpl. Blankenship overseas.

Ohio Postmastership Nominations Submitted

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower has sent to the Senate these postmaster nominations for Ohio:

Theodore Buehrer, Archbold; Willard Alton Drown, Clyde; Robert A. Poutlu, Gates Mills; Olive E. Starkey, Glenford; Russell W. Carter, Mason; Russell L. Lorenzen, Sandusky; Phillip H. Gifford, Urbana; Lyle M. Shumaker, Wauseon; Sherman O. Kreischer, Westerville.

Courthouse Painted

Visitors to the Marion County Courthouse this week have observed a "new look" in several of the offices.

Commissioners have authorized painting and redecoration of the auditor's office, the Probate Court office, and the health department office.

A color scheme of tones of green is being used.

Which Tax Relief First?

U.S. Businessmen Want Depreciation Rates Cut

NEW YORK (AP)—Tax relief for business first or for individuals first—which would give the economy the biggest boost?

Industry is bending congressional ears just now, seeking more liberal depreciation rates—something the average citizen may be a little hazy about. Industry holds that this would spur business and create jobs.

The changes would apply to new farm buildings and equipment, and new rental housing, as well as to new factories and machinery, and commereial and industrial buildings.

Individuals would like a cut in personal income tax payments.

So would William McChesney Martin Jr., head of the Federal Reserve System, in all probability.

But he tells congressmen; "If you increase the money consumers have to spend through raising tax exemptions on personal income taxes, there is no guarantee that the consumer will spend the money."

Many a citizen, on the contrary, may be quite sure that he'll have to spend any money saved him on taxes—and the merchants to whom he is in debt might be interested in seeing the color of that money.

But most businessmen will go along with Martin's belief that at this time of recession worries the emphasis should be on the production side.

Here is how businessmen figure that liberalization of depreciation rates would spur production and create or save jobs:

The present practice in reckoning income tax returns is for businessmen to charge off the cost of plant and equipment over the estimated life of the property. The Treasury has a lot of rules of thumb for this.

If you buy a small cutting tool, say, and its life expectancy is one year, you set up a depreciation reserve for it and charge it off completely as a deductible expense item in the year you buy it. Next year you tap the depreciation reserve for the money to buy a new tool.

Some machinery is expected to last 25 years, and treated accordingly.

If you build an apartment house, the Treasury usually rules it should last 50 years, and depreciation allowance is spread over 50 years.

If you build a water supply dam the Treasury figures it should be good for 150 years—and your heirs and assigns will be charging that one off for a long time.

But businessmen contend the modern world is much too speedy for these old rules. They say that often nowadays a machine becomes obsolete years before it would wear out. Or shifting consumer tastes call for a new machine to make a different product currently striking the public fancy.

They want the Treasury to change depreciation rates so they can charge off most of the cost of the machine or plant in its early years before it may become outdated.

Forest Church Slates Youth Day for Sunday

FOREST—Sunday will be observed as Youth Day in the Forest Methodist Church with the young people having complete charge of the morning worship. The junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Buess will sing.

There will be a district council meeting of the MYF at 2 p.m. in the Methodist Church in Ada. There will be a council meeting of the MYF of the Forest church in the church at 5 p.m. and the members of both the senior and intermediate groups are to meet at the time.

Drivers Enjoy Traffic Arrests in Florida City

NAPLES, Fla. (UP)—Many towns have been accused of operating "speed traps" to glean dollars from out-of-state motorists, but this city, where officials tend toward practical jokes is operating a speed trap in reverse.

Once a week Chief of Police Cale Jones "arrests" an out-of-state motorist—not for any offense but simply because he is from out-of-state. Jones hauls the innocent driver before Mayor W. Roy Smith for "questioning."

At this point the bewildered, and probably sputtering, motorist is let in on the joke. Mayor Smith hands him a key to the city and a "summons" to the city of Naples—including one night's free lodging for the driver and his party, free meals for a day, free theater tickets, and a tour of the city.

"It's Naples' way of selecting a tourist of the week to help publicize its charms.

Congressmen See Business Getting Better

Slump in Production, Jobs Levelling Off, Committee Indicates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Evidence gathered by the Senate-House Economic Committee suggests that the slump in jobs and production "has begun to level off" and will turn into a recovery this spring, Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) said today.

The committee, weighing the anti-depression program President Eisenhower presented to Congress in his economic report last month, took testimony from the heads of nine government economic and statistical agencies this week.

Point to Upturn

Their findings, Rep. Wolcott said in an interview clearly point to a seasonal upturn in hiring and business activity in the early spring, followed by a possibly substantial economic revival in the fall.

"The upturn should come early enough," he forecast, "so that production and employment in 1954 will be only slightly below the average of 1953—which set an all-time record."

Wolcott said he hoped to get from the committee a final report "as nearly unanimous as it's possible to get in Congress," on the policies and legislation needed to maintain a stable prosperity.

But the committee obviously was split on party lines on at least two major elements of the White House program—taxes and agriculture.

Claim Business Favored

Democratic members attacked Eisenhower's tax revision program, on grounds that it contains too many benefits to business, presented as incentives to greater production. Some indicated they would support, instead, a $100 increase in the $600 individual income tax exemption for dependents. This would add to consumers' ability to "purchase the production we've already got," one Democrat explained.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey retorted that the President's tax proposals are a "balanced program" which would benefit both business and consumers.

The Democrats assailed the Eisenhower program for gradually lowered, flexible crop supports. Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) led the attack, saying that the "shock" of lowered price supports might set off a general agricultural depression with serious effect on the whole economy.

While the argument over future farm programs went on, Senate-House conferees yesterday agreed to give the Commodity Credit Corp. $681,739,703 more to finance price support operations under the present program.

worth, former American ambassador to Czechoslovakia.

Czech officials granted him permission to leave the country from the embassy and said it was as a result of pleas from his family.

Asked his opinion of why the Czech government allowed him to leave, he replied: "It's hard to say, now."

To a question whether the State Department had asked him not to talk of his experiences, he said "It's my own private version" not to make statements presently.

"I want to wait a while before I talk," he said.

Newsmen asked if his reticence was prompted by a desire to protect Czech underground members who helped him escape.

"That is one reason and I have other reasons—mainly for security," he said.

Concerning his future plans, he said:

"Since I've been a little kid, it has been my fancy to become a film director."

No One Was Hurt Badly in This Crash

TWO PERSONS ESCAPED serious injury Friday night when this car caught fire after being involved in a two-car collision at the intersection of County Roads 126 and 108. The driver, Jesep Szczepanski, 35, of near Marion, sustained internal injuries and abrasions, while his 4-year-old son, Richard, escaped injury. Three occupants of the other car, driven by James E. Arnold, 17, of LaRue, sustained minor injuries. The injured were treated at the Marion City Hospital and released.

men were still investigating the accident.

Extensive damage resulted to the Ellis and Cook cars, while the remaining two cars were moderately damaged.

Area Mishaps Injure Four

Five traffic accidents were reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol outside Marion County. They resulted in injuries to four persons.

One person was injured in a three-car-collision at 8:30 last night on Rt. 42, three-tenths of a mile north of Route 19.

Augustine Rocco, passenger in a car driven by Rosemary P. Rocco of Cleveland, suffered cuts and bruises in the accident but didn't require treatment. The driver was fined $10 and costs by Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead on a charge of driving left of center.

The Rocco car, headed north, was stopped in the center of the highway, patrolmen said, and was sideswiped by a car driven by Dorothy E. Harrison of Cleveland. A car driven by Bernard Gottesman, 28, of Dayton in turn struck the Harrison vehicle.

The Gottesman and Harrison cars were traveling south. There was moderate damage to the left front of the Gottesman car, left front of the Harrison car and left rear of the Rocco vehicle.

A Galion man was taken to Galion City Hospital for treatment of injuries received in an accident at 12:30 a.m. today on Route 30-S, seven-tenths of a mile west of Route 61.

Taken to the hospital by a passing motorist was Murrill E. Riddlebaugh, who had suffered lacerations of the forehead in the mishap.

Headed west, his car went out of control, leaving the highway on the north side and then crossing over to the south side into the ditch.

Two persons were injured in an accident at 11:10 p.m. on Route 42, 1.9 miles north of Cardington.

Taken to Morrow County Hospital at Mt. Gilead by Craven ambulance following the accident were Wallie C. Schutt of Wellston, O., who suffered lacerations of his face, and Margaret E. Schutt, who suffered body bruises.

Wallie Schutt was driver of the car, headed south, which went out of control and into a ditch. The body and top of the car were demolished.

Two cars were moderately damaged in a mishap at 4:10 p.m. yesterday on Route 95, five miles east of Mt. Gilead.

A car driven by Thomas C. Minneu, 23, of Mansfield and Charles M. Hart, 60, of Marengo collided. The Minneu car, traveling west, was attempting to pass the parked Hart car when the accident occurred.

Hart was arrested on a charge of parking on the highway and cited to appear before Mayor Don Healea of Cardington on Monday.

Cars driven by Lucille Bersinger, of Galion and Pauline Robinson, of Galion, both headed east, were involved in an accident yesterday at 11 p.m. on Route 30-S, one-tenth of a mile west of Route 61.

The Bersinger car was attempting to pass the Robinson auto when it went out of control and scraped the side of the Robinson car. Only minor damage resulted to the cars.

At 12:15 a.m. today on Route 42, three miles north of Mt. Gilead, two cars were moderately damaged in a two-car accident.

A car driven by Carl R. Osborn, 34, of Fredericktown, headed north, started to skid and then hit the front end of a car driven by Modris Novickis, 22, of Cleveland. The Novickis car was traveling south.

Osborn, charged with being to the left of center was cited to appear before Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington Thursday.

Four Injured in County

Four Marion County residents were injured last night in an automobile collision four miles south of Marion, the Marion post of the State Highway Patrol reported this morning.

One other accident was reported in Marion County by the state patrol, and city police listed seven city mishaps, causing one injury. Three of the city accidents resulted from icy street conditions, police said.

State police reported two cars driven by James E. Arnold, 17, of LaRue and Jesep Szczepanski, 35, of near Marion, collided at the intersection of county Roads 126 and 108. Arnold, going east on Rt. 108 collided with a car driven by Szczepanski, officers said. Extensive damage resulted to the front end of Arnold's car and the left side of Szczepanski's.

Patrolmen reported both drivers and two passengers in the Arnold car were injured and taken to Marion City Hospital by a passing motorist. They were treated and later released. Szczepanski suffered internal injuries and abrasions, Edith Arnold, abrasions of right hip and leg, Robert Arnold, 15, lacerations of the scalp and abrasions of the right hip, and Kenneth Whitman, 16, a sprained left hand, the state patrol reported. The injured from the Arnold car are all from LaRue.

James E. Arnold, was given a citation for failure to yield the right of way, state patrolmen report. He is slated to appear in juvenile court at a later date.

In another Marion County accident reported by state police, a car driven by George W. Howard, 45, of near Marion, went out of control while passing another automobile three miles south of the Crawford County line at 5:50 last night. Howard's vehicle ran off the left side of the highway, then crossed it again and went into the ditch on the right side, state patrolmen said. They added that there was damage to the left side and front of Howard's car, but he was not injured.

Ice Blamed in Mishaps

One motorist was slightly injured in one of five traffic accidents blamed on icy streets reported today by city police. They reported two other minor, no injury accidents not caused by skidding.

Jack H. Shrader, 21, of 315½ Franklin St. was slightly injured when his car skidded into a fire hydrant at E. Center St. and Grand Ave. at 4:32 a.m. this morning and broke it off.

He told police he was driving east on E. Center St. and skidded when he applied the brakes. His car also struck Beal's Food Market but caused no damage to it, police said.

Another driver, Plez Booker, 18, of near Marion escaped injury when his car skidded into a tree at E. Fairground and Grant Sts. at 9:18 a.m. today. He said he was attempting to make a right turn onto Grant St.

A car driven by George H. Probst, 56, of 363 Durfee Dr. skidded into another driven by Willard H. Byrd, 34, of near Marion at Church and Orchard Sts. at 9:24 a.m. today.

At 8:52 this morning a car driven by Marvin D. Wilkinson, 43, of 571 W. Columbia St. skidded into the path of a city truck driven by Virgil R. Smith, 46, of 889 Adams St. at Sugar and Davids Sts.

Only other accident blamed on skidding occurred at N. Main and Fairground Sts. at 12:20 a.m. this morning when a car driven by Norman E. Beery, 18, of 338 Fies Ave. skidded into another driven by Donald Strickland, 38, of 530 Toledo Ave.

Other two accidents investigated by city police were fender benders only. A truck driven by Ben W. Ambrose, 49, of 786 Filmore St. and a car driven by James E. Bryant, 34, of 365 Waterloo St. collided in the 200 block on Waterloo St. at 5:50 p.m. Friday.

Three cars were involved in an accident at 229 N. Prospect St. at 4:16 p.m. Friday. A car driven by Charles F. Simonis, 42, of 783 Oak Grove Ave. and another driven by Donald R. Ford, 25, of 689 N. State St. collided at an alley and street intersection. The impact forced Ford's car into a parked car owned by Peter M. Hackett of Springfield. Damage was slight, police said.

votes on the measure until the week of Feb. 15.

There are so many conflicting proposals pending that George said it seems doubtful to him that any could now get Senate approval by the necessary two-thirds of those voting.

"But maybe after we have mulled this thing over for a while, it may be possible to get some agreement," the Georgia senator said.

He added that he believes he may get a majority of the Senate to approve substituting his plan for the Bricker proposal. George's version would nullify any treaty or international agreement which conflicted with the Constitution and would prevent executive agreements from becoming effective as internal law except by act of Congress. A majority vote would be enough to revise the pending Bricker proposal along these lines, but final passage still would require two-thirds approval.

Explains Proposal

George in a Senate speech yesterday emphasized that his substitute proposal was intended to make sure international agreements negotiated by presidents without Senate confirmation would not override state constitutions and laws.

He said the President would "have great difficulty in explaining to the American people" a stand in favor of such executive power, which George contended might lead to one-man rule.

But he predicted "The President will never support that proposition when he understands it."

George said that recent actions of Atty. Gen. Brownell in appealing a court ruling on an executive trade agreement indicate the attorney general wants the executive agreement power to be supreme.

Bricker's Substitute

Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), who opposed changing the Constitution at this time, made public a letter to Eisenhower asserting that the President's opposition to the Bricker proposal is "a tribute to your courage and perseverance."

Bricker, who has offered a substitute for his own proposal, told his colleagues several organizations working for a world government "in which the United States would become only a minor province" are fighting his proposal.

TRUCK REPORTED STOLEN

Theft of a truck owned by the Erie Railroad Co. was reported to police today by C. A. Haywood, night superintendent for the railroad in Marion. He said the truck was stolen from Union Depot between 11:35 and 11:55 p.m. Friday night. A 1952 model, the truck was used by the "caller" to notify train crews to report for work. Police are investigating.

REVENUE AGENTS SOUGHT

The Internal Revenue Service has immediate vacancies in the position of accountant for filling the positions of internal revenue agent and special agent (tax fraud), paying $4205 a year. The service announced today the positions are located in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Virginia, and West Virginia. Further information may be obtained from the Postoffice.

City Police List Violations Here

Officers Arrest 293 During Month Period

Marion police marked up a total of 2,679 violations of various laws which resulted in the arrest of 293 persons during January, Police Chief Thomas Coon reported today.

In a monthly summary of department activities, he noted that the largest number of violations were those involving parking regulations. There were 2,376 such violations in which there were no arrests. Total collections from all traffic tickets was $918.

Various goods, other than automobiles, stolen was valued at $7,634 and police recovered $7,263 worth of it, Coon said. Total value of three automobiles stolen was $6,795. All three were recovered in other cities.

Chief Coon also noted there were 32 complaints of law violations by juveniles during the month in which five youths were issued warnings and six were sent to Marion County Juvenile Court for trial.

During the month there were 213 persons arrested for violations of various traffic laws. Of these, 93 were speeders and 70 of them were arrested. The other 23 were issued citations. Reckless drivers accounted for 39 of the remaining 81 traffic arrests.

Other offenses and the number of arrests in each were as follows: one breaking and entering, one arrest; six thefts, no arrests; three auto thefts, one arrest; two embezzlements, two arrests; four offenses against family, four arrests; 52 drunks, 52 arrests; six disorderly conduct, ix arrests; one vagrancy, one arrest; seven drunken drivers, seven arrests; three other offenses of various types with three arrests; and three persons held for investigation were later arrested on various charges.

Eleven Traffic Arrests Listed By Patrolmen

A total of 11 traffic arrests were reported by local state patrolmen.

Persons arrested, their charge, and disposition of the cases follow:

Jesse L. Short, 40, of Archbold, O., speeding, to appear in Municipal Court Friday; Richard W. Haberman, 44, of Columbus, speeding, fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court; William M. Birdsong, 34, of Garden City, Mich., speeding, to appear in Municipal Court Tuesday; John R. Miller, 21, of Forest, no operators license, to appear before Justice of the Peace R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead Wednesday; Carl A. Bogt, 33, of Mt. Vernon, passing over the yellow line, to appear before Bennington Monday; Mildred L. Jordon, of Marengo, failure to yield the right of way, fined $15 and costs by Bennington; Clark R. French, 28, of Columbus, passing over the yellow line, fined $15 and costs by Bennington; Paul B. Wainwright, 26, of Buffalo, N.Y., no highway used tax permit, fined $15 and costs by Mayor Emery Murphy of Mt. Gilead; Morris D. Murphy, 33, of Berea, unsafe operation, fined $20 and costs by Mayor Don Healea of Cardington; Pierre Diemer, 32, of Cleveland, passing over the yellow line, fined $10 and costs by Bennington; and Wallace D. Davenport, 33, of Cleveland, speeding, fined $15 and costs by Murphy.

Election Meetings Slated Here Feb. 18

Marion is one of 12 cities in which a series of election conferences will be held this month, it was announced today by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. The meeting is scheduled for the morning of Feb. 18.

The purpose of the meeting, Brown stated, is to interview prospective appointees to boards of elections and to better acquaint them with board duties. Terms of 176 county board members expire Feb. 28.

Brown said meetings will be held at offices of election boards except in Columbus where his own office will be used.

Rotary Given Children's Home Plaque

A PLAQUE IN APPRECIATION of the redecorating of the girls' lounge at the Children's Home was presented to the Marion Rotary Club in an informal ceremony Friday night at the home. Presenting the plaque is E. E. Banning, chairman of the board of trustees, (left) to Dr. James S. Greetham, president of the Rotary Club. More than 50 Rotarians and Rotary-Anns attended. Following the presentation the group was taken on a tour of the building and later coffee and cake were served by Eugene White and Mrs. White, superintendent and matron of the home. The lounge, recently redecorated and furnished by the club, also will be maintained by the organization. Present also were Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, Mrs. Paul Bachman and Dr. Frederick W. Rea, members of the home board of trustees.

views of many Democrats, Truman said in New York last night "The recession that started on the farms last spring has already spread to the city streets—and a depression would do likewise."

Truman spoke at a dinner meeting of Americans for Democratic Action.

Points to Talk

In Denver, Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell asked, "If things are so fine, why are President Eisenhower, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and House Speaker Joe Martin talking about recession and readjustment?"

He said his Republican counterpart, Leonard Hall, "should get out of the White House ballyhoo atmosphere and talk to some storekeepers, farmers and ranchers and housewives. He'd find a great many people not as well off today as a year ago."

But Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, said today evidence it has gathered indicates that dips in jobs and production have "begun to level off" and recovery may begin in the early spring.

Wolcott said in an interview that production and employment should pick up enough later so that "1954 will be only slightly below the average of 1953—which set an all-time record."

The Republicans who polished off chicken from $1.50 lunch boxes they held in their laps heard speaker after speaker lash the Democratic opposition with stronger words than the President used.

Vice President Nixon said that failure to carry out the President's program would result in a swing by the nation to the "far left."

He said that if a Republican Congress is not elected in November "one of the major reasons will be that the Republicans themselves are divided."

And in international affairs, he continued, Eisenhower is "the best known salesman" to lead the free world.

The audience, some wearing overcoats against the chilly draughts that cut through the sports arena where they met, gave Eisenhower a 2½ minute roaring welcome.

Repeats Definition

He grinned as he told them he wasn't supposed to make a speech. Then he said his administration is going to follow Abraham Lincoln's precepts by being "liberal" in all things dealing with human relations and "conservative" in money matters—a definition he gave a news conference only a few days ago.

He said his administration will make certain that every individual has the opportunity to make of himself what he can and will have "a sympathetic partner, a big brother partner in the federal government."

"Let us not be afraid to be humble but let us when it comes down to the basic purposes of the Republican party—to preserve this nation as it has existed and to make the government serve all the people no matter what legal way that is done—let us be courageous," he continued.

Wife Seeking Bond For Ohioan Found Guilty of Perjury

CINCINNATI (AP)—The wife of a Dayton, Ohio, man convicted of lying when he swore he was not a Communist said she was sure she could raise a $10,000 bond today.

She was unable to get the money yesterday when the Sixth Circuit of the U.S. Court of Appeals ruled E. Melvin Hupman, the convicted perjurer, should be released if he could post the bond.

However, Mrs. Pearl Hupman said she thought she could raise it before noon.

She will have to get a $10,000 surety bond or two persons to sign the bond, each pledging surety in real estate double the amount of the bond.

A Federal District Court jury found Hupman guilty Jan. 15 of swearing falsely to a non-Communist affidavit as an officer of a Dayton local of the Independent Electrical Workers Union. He was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000.

The two dogs, which perished in the fire, were owned by M. L. Anderson. Spot, a coach dog, won first prize in his class and second best award in the Marion Kennel Club All-Breed Dog Show last year. The other dog, Sport, was a Llewlyn setter.

Extensive damage to the barn is covered by insurance, however, Anderson said there was no insurance on his two horses.

Funeral arrangements for Mr. Dildine are incomplete. The body was taken to the Schindewolf-Steiner-Stevens Funeral Home. He had worked around race tracks all his life and had lived in Kenton since his early youth. He was born at Mt. Victory and in his youth was a well-known athlete in this area. He was a World War I veteran.

Four Drivers Charged With Traffic Violations

A Bucyrus man was committed to the Marion County jail today when he was unable to post a $500 bond for his appearance in Marion Municipal Court for trial on a charge of drunken driving.

James D. Dunn, 35, was arrested by city police on charges of drunken driving and having insufficient brakes on his car. He pleaded guilty to the insufficient brakes charge and was fined $15 and costs. He pleaded not guilty to the drunken driving charge. No date has been set for his hearing on this charge.

In other Municipal Court action today three other motorists arrested by city police on various traffic charges pleaded not guilty. They were Richard Sayles, 27, of Oakridge Ct., failure to register a motor vehicle; Charles F. Laube, 47, of Tiffin, speeding; and George L. Earl, 36, of near Marion, no turn signals on a truck. All three were to be tried today.

termine which plan will be best for the city.

He said he has also gotten a letter from the State Board of Examiners of Architects referring to one plan to remodel the present quarters. The letter asked for the name of whatever architect had been retained to plan the remodeling, Mayor Robinson said. He said he replied that no definite plans for this project were made and if it is decided to remodel present facilities, he would then inform the board of examiners the name of the architect employed.

"WE WILL CONTINUE our investigations until we feel sure we have the best plan for providing the city with a home of its own," Mayor Robinson said.

He first proposed conversion of City Hospital into a city hall last fall but dropped this plan temporarily after he was informed that the cost of remodeling would likely be prohibitive. It was believed at that time that the entire interior of the building would have to be torn out to make it useable as a city hall. "Presently it appears only a few minor alterations would be needed," Mayor Robinson said.

hoaxes ever attempted in American history."

"When the Republicans took over the government on Jan. 20, 1953," he said, "if there were any Communists in the government service they were very, very few indeed."

Truman accused Republican campaigners in 1952 of lying about the Communist menace. And when they took office, he said, they "lacked the courage" to admit it.

"We can be against communism without being dishonest about it," Truman said, "without slinging mud and smearing everyone with whom we disagree."

Regarding Eisenhower's statement, at a press conference and in his State of the Union message, that 2,200 government employes had been gotten rid of as security risks, Truman had this to say:

"It seems to me that the presidential press conference and the State of the Union message ought not to be used for such deceptive practices as this.

"Who is included in the 2,200? The administration refuses to say. How was the number arrived at? The administration refuses to say. But some of the facts are beginning to come out just the same.

"Few of them do any credit to the 'great crusade.'"

Husband and Wife Fined $25 on Conduct Charges

A Marion man and his wife were each fined $25 and costs in Marion Municipal Court this morning when they pleaded guilty to two charges of disorderly conduct.

Donald Baker, 35, and his wife, Betty, both of 313 Girard Ave. were arrested at 2:49 a.m. today on S. Main St. Police said they were arguing on the street and creating a disturbance. They were released after paying their fines.

Morral, Prospect Finish in Tie for County League Honors

Harding Defense Cracks, Findlay Takes 55-54 Win

Presidents Fail To Protect 6-Point Lead in Last Period

By JOHN SHORT

A Harding High School cage team that failed to heed the pleas of its coach and nearly 1,000 partisan fans blew a six-point lead last night in falling to the Findlay Trojans 55-54.

Marion basketball fans watched th six-point lead evaporate in near-record time after the Prexies had apparently nailed down their first win in Buckeye League action. The hopes disappeared in the last minute and a half, however, as the Presidents kept firing away at the basket instead of attempting to control the ball.

Grab Lead

With a minute and 37 seconds to play, Harding took a 54-48 lead when Bob Hamor dropped in a pair of foul shots after being fouled by an over-eager Trojan's attempt to gain control. That, for all intent and purpose, was the game and the near-capacity crowd relaxed.

Even after Findlay's Cramer narrowed the margin to 54-50 with a minute and 28 seconds to go, no one was worried.

Then disaster struck. For some unexplained reason, five Harding players were struck by the same idea—to pile up more points. Every player in the Harding lineup was partially responsible since everyone got in at least one uncalled-for shot, strictly against orders from Coach Jim Lawler, who was standing at the sideline screaming orders to "control the ball."

A hook shot from the corner, a set shot from near the middle of the floor and a missed drive-in resulted in three rebounds gobbled up by the Trojans against an offense-minded Harding crew. Two of the rebounds were taken down floor and resulted in field goals while the third was converted into a single point, the victory margin, from a pair of foul shots.

Making the defeat even more disheartening was the fact that Harding had fought an uphill battle to pull itself back into the game. After Hamor and Dave Schnelker had given the Prexies a 2-0 lead on foul shots, Findlay's 5-5 forward, Ray Siferd, and lanky Dave Miller sparked the Trojans to a 13-5 lead late in the period. Donnie Smith and Schnelker managed to cut the margin to 13-9 at the end of the frame.

Margin Reduced

Doug Bibler came off the bench to add new life to the Harding offense in the second period. He dumped in seven points to help the Prexies outscore the visitors and reduce their margin. At the halftime intermission, Harding had cut the deficit to 25-24 after Ron Conroy dropped through a fielder from just over the center line as the clock ran out.

The teams traded scores in the third period after Donnie Smith put Harding ahead 26-25 after 32 seconds of play. From there the lead changed hands four times during the stanza. Jim Garnes and Miller sparked the Trojan attack but Smith hit on two attempts from the foul line to knot the count at 41-41 as the period ended.

At the start of the final quarter, Findlay raced to a 47-41 edge before Smith hit on a set shot to break the ice for Harding. With exactly half the period gone Conroy scored on a layup to knot the count at 48-all. Smith hit on a fielder and Schnelker on a free throw to shove Harding ahead 51-48. At that point, pesky Ray Siferd who had riddled Harding's defense fouled out and the Harding win looked safe. Schnelker dropped in a pair of charity throws for insurance.

From the 3:13 mark to 1:57 the Prexies managed to control the ball with one of the most effective freezes seen here this year. But after Hamor dropped in a pair of free throws to boost the count to 54-48, the Harding squad fell apart. It couldn't hear their coach, it couldn't think and it didn't play basketball. As a result it dropped its seventh straight decision in Buckeye League play and its minth of the season against six wins.

Hit 36 Per Cent

The Prexies turned in a respectable 36 per cent shooting average despite their last-minute mistakes. They hit on 17 of 46 attempted from the field and added 20 of 31 foul shots for a 64 per cent average.

Dave Schnelker led the way with 15 markers. Conroy added 14 to the Harding cause and Smith collected 10. Miller was high for Find lay with 14 while John Johnson and Siferd each netted 12.

The Harding reserves suffered a 46-43 defeat in the preliminary after they fell before last-period rally. Findlay's futures took a 20-16 edge in the first period and clung to a 26-25 lead at the half before the Vice Presidents forged into a 38-33 lead at the end of the third period. Harding managed only five points in the final stanza.

The Harding juniors hit on 15 of 44 attempts from the field for a 34 per cent mark and potted 13 of 22 shots from the foul line. Leading Coach Al Beach's charges were Lowell McFann with 11 and Lowell Carlisle with 10. Lanning was high for Findlay with 19.

NEW YORK — Joey Giardello, 157¼, Philadelphia, stopped Walter Cartier, 161, New York, 1.

Barons Meet Toledo, Return Home Sunday

Marion's barons resume their drive to clinch second spot in the International Hockey League race tonight at Toledo before coming back to home ice Sunday to entertain the Ft. Wayne Komets.

The local skaters are currently three points in front of third-place Toledo and five ahead of Johnstown in fourth spot. Marion has 58 points—12 less than league leading Cincinnati — while Toledo is credited with 55 and Johnstown with 53.

After dropping the first four decisions to Ft. Wayne, the Barons have come back to register two straight 6-1 verdicts. In previous encounters Ft. Wayne had won 5-4, 3-2, 3-2and 3-2.

Sunday's game here will mark Ft. Wayne's last visit of the year The Barons will conclude their series with the Komets there next Tuesday night.

Ft. Wayne will have an added scoring punch when it visits here Sunday. Coach Pat Wilson, who took over the reins of the Komets just 10 days ago, has added Art Stone to the Komet lineup. The center came to the Ft. Wayne team from the Cleveland Barons.

A full IHL schedule is on tap both tonight and Sunday. Other games tonight find Louisville at Johnstown, Ft. Wayne at Cincinnati and Milwaukee at Grand Rapids. Sunday, Louisville will be at Cincinnati, Johnstown at Troy and Grand Rapids at Milwaukee.

Bucyrus Hoopsters Roll Over Crestline

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus rolled past Crestline 64-54 here last night for its third Northern Ohio League win in four starts and eighth victory of the season against five losses. The loss left Crestline with a 0-4 rating in the league and 2-12 mark for the season.

Bucyrus led all the way, with the closest Crestline coming 56-50 midway in the final period. The winners quickly cut the Crestline rally short.

The winners jumped off to an 18-6 bulge in the opening period and led 33-20 at halftime. It was 46-32 heading into the final stanza.

It was Bucyrus', fourth straight win. Tom Smith dropped in 20 points to lead the winners' offense while Glen Butterman added 18. It gave him 287 points for the season, only 35 off the pace set by Dan Bumstead in 1952 when he set a Bucyrus High School individual scoring record. Butterman has three more games in which to set a new mark. Bill Klopfenstein with 17 points paced the losers.

Crestline came out on top in the reserve clash, 47-41.

BUCYRUS 64

J. Weithman 2-4-8; Bibler 2-0-4; Butterman 7-4-18; Smith 7-6-20; Freshwater 4-3-11; Rehm 0-0-0; Yaussy 1-1-3.

Harper, Wilson Appear In Video Ring Feature

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Clever Maurice Harper, stablemate of middleweight champion Bobo Olson, takes on Al (Sugar) Wilson of New York in a nationally-televised fight here tonight.

The welterweight battle, scheduled for 10 rounds, will start at 9 p. m. EST.

Wilson is a substitute for Paddy Young, who was sidelined with a last-minute ear injury.

Charcoal will absorb far more than its own volume of a gas.

Four Games Slated

Morral, Pleasant To Open Tournament Play Monday

Morral, Marion County League co-champions, and Pleasant will pry the lid off the 1954 county basketball tournament Monday at 5:30 p.m. at the Coliseum.

Coach Vern Hensel's Wildcats were seeded number one in drawings last night when county coaches gathered at the home of Ivan Barnhart, assistant county school superintendent, following the final county league session.

Three other games will comprise the opening night program. Meeker, seeded number three, will meet Claridon in the second game at 6:45 p.m. while Prospect, seeded second, will take on Waldo at 8 p.m.

Final game of the evening pits LaRue, fourth seeded team, against New Bloomington at 9:15 p.m.

Martel, Caledonia and Green Camp drew first round byes. Martel is slated for action Wednesday night at 8 p.m. against the winner of the Morral-Pleasant clash while Caledonia will see action the same evening at 9:15 p.m. against either Meeker or Claridon.

Green Camp will be playing the winner of the Prospect-Waldo contest Friday at 9 p.m.

Since Morral and Prospect finished as league co-champions with identical 9-1 marks, Coach Vern Hensel and Bob Kelly drew by lot to determine the number one and two seeded teams. This was also true in the case of the third and fourth seeded teams as Meeker, Claridon and LaRue all finished in a dead heat for second spot in the league with 7-3 slates. The drawing by lot left Claridon out.

The tourney will include six sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and on Feb. 16, 18 and 20. The tourney champ, runner-up and consolation winner will advance to the district at Capital University and Otterbein College.

Officials for the tourney are Bob Strimer, Sterling Geesman, Lloyd Coder, Harold Simpson, Robert Harmon, John Keunzli, Joe Cox, George Keel, Floyd Gehres, Roy Everly and Clyde Bell.

Bryant Encounters Trouble In Leaving Kentucky Post

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky athletic officials appeared today in a frame of mind to hold football Coach Paul Bryant to his contract and possibly block his agreement to coach at Texas A&M.

The storm surred up by Bryant's sudden announcement Thursday that he was leaving with nine years to run on his contract was whipped to a fury yesterday when:

1. Dr. H. L. Donovan, school president, said he would not recommend acceptance of the resignation by the athletic association.

2. A source close to the association said its members most likely will take no action on the resignation, leaving Bryant obligated to his contract.

This posed a question of whether Texas A&M officials will sign Bryant to a contract before he gets an outright release from Kentucky.

W. L. Penberthy, chairman of the Aggie athletic council, said when asked last night what Texas A&M might do under such circumstances:

"I just don't know. I'm not in a position to say."

He added, however, that A&M President David H. Morgan understood Bryant's acceptance was contingent upon his resignation and that there would be no difficulties at Kentucky.

Bryant wouldn't talk about the complications. Neither would he say when he plans to leave for College Station, home of the Aggies or discuss his assistant coaches.

Richwood Falls In Last Minute

RICHWOOD — Byhalia - York handed Richwood its eighth straight loss here last night, punning a 48-46 defeat on the Tigers in a Union County League contest.

The victory margin came on a pair of foul shots by Byhalia's Ballinger with but seven seconds remaining. Richwood got off to a 14-11 edge in the opening period and remained ahead at halftime 21-19, and after three quarters 32-30, but dropped behind in the final stanza.

McAllister put in 16 points for the winners and Lingrel added 11. For Richwood, John Coder was the big gun with 19 markers, being trailed by Tom Shields with 12.

Richwood was a 42-19 victor in the reserve contest.

Mt. Gilead Cops First Crown in Mid-Ohio Loop

MT. GILEAD — The first Mid-Ohio Conference basketball title was Mt. Gilead's after the Indians edged Cardington 62-58 here last night. It gave Mt. Gilead a perfect 4-0 mark in league play.

The winners led most of the way but had to stave off a last quarter Cardington attack which fell short after the losers pumped in 20 points to only 11 for Mt. Gilead.

Mt. Gilead led 51-38 going into the final quarter. It held previous quarter leads of 19-10; and 36-26

The winners clicked on 22 of 30 free throw attempts while Cardington was only able to sink eight of 18 trys.

Ralph King did his best to lead Cardington to a victory, dropping in 29 points for the losers. John Bachelder had 20 points for Mt Gilead and Ted Moody came in with 16.

Mt. Gilead's reserves notched a 47-31 win in the preliminary.

Radnor Wins 50-47 Against Big Walnut

RADNOR—Racking up its fourth straight win, Radnor edged Big Walnut 50-47 in its final home appearance of the season last night. A Delaware County League match, it left both quintets tied for fourth spot in the league with 2-5 marks.

Radnor snapped a deadlock with two minutes remaining then stalled for the win. Big Walnut had led in all of the previous quarters, 11-9, 25-22 and 37-36.

Don Maxwell, all on long shots, paced the Radnor attack with 23 points while Lowell Taylor added 15. Dave Poppler, 6-7 center, was tops for Big Walnut with 22 points.

Big Walnut was a 55-41 winner in the reserve contest as Meadows arched in 15 points for the winners. Barney Belt caged 14 for Radnor. Radnor closes its basketball season next Friday night with Scioto Valley at Ostrander.

Three Teams Grab Share Of Second as Race Closes

Morral and Prospect finished as co-champions of the Marion County League after both turned in wins last night in the final session of the year.

Prospect had an easy time getting by Martel but Morral was forced to pull one out of the fire with Claridon to maintain its co-champion rating.

The wins left both quintets with 9-1 marks in league play for the year. Second spot was shared by three teams—Claridon, LaRue and Meeker, all with 7-3 marks—following last night's action.

LaRue edged Pleasant while Meeker downed Green Camp. In the remaining league contest, Wat do brushed past New Bloomington.

County league teams are now preparing for the county tournament which gets underway Monday night at the Coliseum.

Morral nudged from behind to edge Claridon 47-46 and retain its portion of the county league championship in a defensive battle on the losers' court.

Coach Vern Hensel's forces overcame a nine-point deficit in the last quarter to post the win. Trailing by that margin with six minutes to go, the Wildcats steadily cut the Claridon margin and then went ahead by three points, stalling the last minute for the win.

Both clubs battled to an 8-8 deadlock in the first quarter and then Claridon began to pull away. Outscoring the winners 11-8 in the second period, Claridon held a 19-16 edge at halftime and then as both teams staged scoring sprees built its advantage to 39-31 after three quarters of play. Morral limited Claridon to seven points in the final period while scoring 16.

John Craycraft came in with 16 points for Morral while Clair Hensel notched 13 and Junior Bell 12. Gene Jessie with 17 topped Claridon scoring. Bud Price collected 12 and Gary Row hit for eight.

Morral absorbed its first loss in county reserve league play in the preliminary encounter, bowing 49-47 in a double-overtime tilt. However, Morral still copped the county reserve league title over Prospect and Caledonia, both of whom lost twice in county league action.

Mannie Saxton had 21 and Myron Sandridge 14 for the losers while Johnston with 14, Larry Row with 11 and Smith with 10 were tops for the winners.

Prospect's cagers easily rolled by a visiting Martel team 80-24 to protect its share of the county league title. It marked the 10th straight loss for the winless Martel club.

Coach Bob Kelly cleared his bench after the first quarter when Prospect sped to a 24-3 advantage. Three of the Prospect starters were lifted after the first quarter and saw no further action while other two only played in the first two periods.

Prospect built up a 39-6 bulge at halftime and at the three quarter mark had upped its advantage to 62-19. Martel was limited to but eight field goals and the same number of free throws.

Twelve Bulldogs broke into the scoring column with Jim Swihart pacing the Prospect attack with 17 points Tuttle came in with 12 while Bob Rodgers added nine and Tom Hickman and Roger Landon each dumped in eight. Don Krawczyk and Bob Emery each had seven High for the losers was Kenneth Barden with eight. Three other Martel cagers had five points apiece.

Prospect walked off with a 51-23 decision in the reserve contest. George Moser with 16 points and Roger Reinhinger with nine led the winners' attack. Burkhart hit for seven for Martel.

Meeker concluded its county league season at 7-3 by downing Green Camp 65-43 on the losers' floor. The loss was Green Camp's ninth in 11 county league outings.

Leading all the way, Meeker strode out front 18-9 in the first quarter and picked up ground the rest of the way. It was 36-21 at intermission and 52-32 at the three-quarter halt.

Four Meeker players hit for double figures with Dick Sharp leading the way with 16. Johnson added 15 while Sims hooped in 12 and Newland netted 10. George Rush dropped in 17 points for the losers while Louie Finch added 10.

A preliminary junior high game was won by Meeker 37-36 in overtime. Bill White hooped 22 points for the winners while John Showers with 17 led the Green Camp attack.

LaRue bettered its league mark to 7-3 by edging Pleasant 60-55 on the losers' floor. It was Pleasant's seventh loss in 10 county league games.

The winners started out fast, edging ahead 21-14 in the first quarter, but then lost part of their lead during the second period. Pleasant slimmed the LaRue bulge to 29-26 at halftime but the Indians came back to clinch the victory in the third period, pushing ahead 46-38.

Raymond Hosey led the LaRue attack with 19 points. He was followed by Larry Hickman with 16, Hughes with 12 and Gene Cooper with 11.

Jerry Gorby, the county league's top scorer, added to his total when he dumped in 23 points. It gave him an even 200 points over the 10-game league schedule. Freshour came in with 13 points while Stoner and Sellers each hit for eight.

The reserve clash went to Pleas-

Tricks for Cooling

House Design Lowers Air Conditioning Costs

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Air conditioning is changing the style of houses, sizes and shapes of homesites, landscaping, roofs, placement of windows, the direction in which a house may face and many other features

The result is that anyone planning to build a new house might be prudent to consider these factors, whether air conditioning is planned in the equipment or not To own a house that could be converted economically for air conditioning might prove to be a better investment than a house calling for major alterations

—:—

THE REASON SUCH details are becoming so important is that they can save the homeowner money

'A flat roof is harder to cool than an attic house," say the experts "A cathedral ceiling — running up to the rafters — is one of the hardest to cool

"A house in a treeless tract must handle about twice as big a heat load as the same house in the woods

"White paint is one of the cheapest ways to cut cooling costs

"Old fashioned shutters are hard to beat for shielding east and west windows.

"A house in Minneapolis needs a much wider overhang on its southern side than a house in Dallas."

THESE ARE SOME of the facts developed in research by the University of Illinois, the National Warm Air and Air Conditioning Association and House & Home Architects are making use of such information in designing houses

An "Idea and Fact Book" published by the Carrier Corp for the use of 5,000 architects, says

"In any residence there are five major sources of heat with direct radiation from the sun and heat from outside atmosphere accounting for three-quarters or more of the total heat load

"These factors will compensate for the sun.

"1 Designing the proper overhanging which will shield walls and windows from the sun's radiation Overhangs must be gauged for the section of the country in which the home is located, because of the angle of the sun at various distances from the equator.

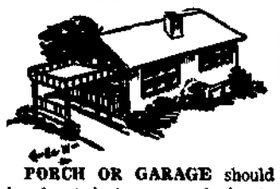
"2. Locate trees, planting, garages or other structures to do a shading job for rooms that would get the direct sun.

"3 Windows should be so located whenever possible as to miss the direct rays of the sun Usually larger windows should look to the north, or under an overhang to the south.

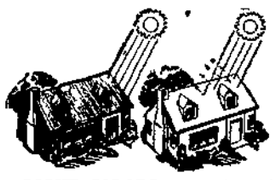
"4 Venetian blinds can be used on windows that face into the sun.

"5 Light colored houses with white roofs absorb less heat than dark colors This helps to reduce the heat load "

ROOF OVERHANGS help to foil the summer sun.



PORCH OR GARAGE should be located to give shade to house.



LIGHT COLORS on roofs and sidewalls help reflect heat and sunlight

HOUSE UNDER TREES is cooler than one which has no trees.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: Sometime ago we converted our hot-air furnace from coal to oil. Since then our basement is quite cold even though there are two registers to heat the basement We have a small coal stove and are wondering if we could use this in order to get sufficient heat in the basement area. If we connect the coal stove to the present chimney sixteen to eighteen inches above the hot-air furnace pipe, would there be any conflict between the two?

A: There is usually an interference in the draft of either heating unit and sometimes in both. However, in some instances fairly satisfactory results have been obtained, where a chimney was a bit larger than necessary, and the smoke pipe of the heater was installed in another wall of the chimney. If this does not work out, it may then be necessary to install an oil or gas fired space heater. Before tackling the job, I recommend your consulting a building contractor familiar with your local conditions.

Q: We have a thirty - year - old bungalow with an oil-fired hot water heating system. The basement does not get very warm and since supplemental heating units are not practical I was wondering if the removal of the asbestos pipe covering in the basement would help. Would the heat lost through uninsulated pipes be ample to warm the basement without adding materially to the fuel bill?

A: The removal of the asbestos insulation from the pipes will undoubtedly help make the basement more comfortable unless the area is exceptionally large. However, this procedure may result in the shortage of heat in the rooms above, unless the heating system is large enough to take care of the extra amount of heat loss. The only one who could advise you definitely on this point would be a competent heating contractor. Or, you can find out yourself by experimenting with the procedure you outlined.

Q: Please advise what to use to fill nail holes in woodwork The wood is to be finished a light natural color.

A: Fill the holes with wood putty tinted with a light oak oil stain to match the color of the finished woodwork. Wood putty can be purchased at most paint stores.

Caddy Cart Among Devices To Lighten Load on Mailman

WASHINGTON (AP)—The golfer's caddy cart may soon be a familiar sight on your mailman's route

The Postoffice Department is putting them into test operation in a number of cities in an effort to take some of the load off the postman's feet.

The two-wheeled pushcart—almost identical with the type shove around the golf links as a golf bag carrier—costs the government $28 and carries two loaded mail bags

This and other innovations were disclosed by Maurice B Feimster, director of Postoffice Department procedures, in testimony before the House Appropriations Committee made public today.

Other devices he mentioned included bicycles with containers for mail, "snorkel" mail boxes for curbside letter posting, throwaway paper sacks, bundle-tying machines and push-button change makers.

You still have to lick your own stamps, though.

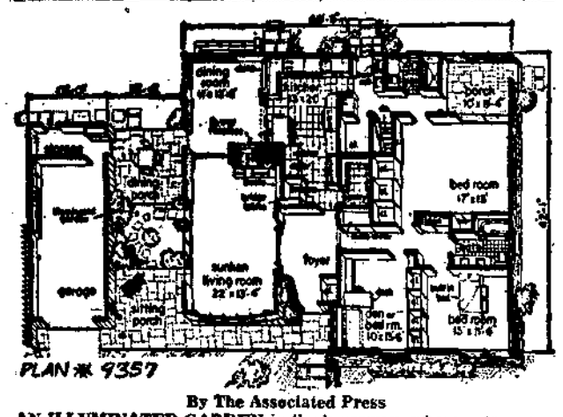
House Has Tree Inside



By The Associated Press

AN ILLUMINATED GARDEN in the breezway, where a tree grows through the roof, is one of the features of this plan. A glass wall separates this garden from sunken living room. A two-way fireplace cheers both living room and dining room. A pantry adoins the kitchen. There are three bedrooms and two baths. This is plan 9357 by Rudolph A. Matern, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N.Y.

Institute at Carey To Open on Feb. 18

CAREY—This year's Community Institute program here will be held Feb. 18 and 19 at the school with a panel discussion, home-talent show, home arts exhibit and a new display, fine arts, to highlight the event.

The panel discussion will feature explanation of the purposes of the Mental Health Clinic at Tiffin, and Mary Lou Pfeiffer, women's service director of radio station WRFD at Worthington, will be featured on the program. The home-talent show will be under the direction of Ray Schindler and home arts exhibit with prizes and awards will be handled by Mrs. Clarence Hoepf. A champion ribbon will be presented for the most outstanding piece of handiwork.

Chairman of the students' poster contest is Ralph Sampson, seventh grade teacher at Colonel Crawford School and Cecil Laird, principal of Colonel Crawford School and sixth grade teacher, is chairman of the writing contest. Other displays will include an industrial and business exhibit where citizens can become better acquainted with the work done in local industries and businesses.

Joe Newhard is president of the 1954 institute and Mrs. Paul Heck fills the position of secretary.

Ohioan To Receive Telephone After Waiting 11 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It looks like Walter H. Lahmers finally will get a telephone after more than 11 years of waiting.

Lahmers and Robert W. Decker, who live in rural Tuscarawas County 10 miles from New Philadelphia, asked the state utilities commision a year and a half ago to let Ohio Bell Telephone Co. serve them. Lahmers at a public hearing testified he asked the General Telephone Co. of Ohio back in 1942 to give him a telephone.

The only response he got, he claimed, was letters from the telephone company telling why it could not take him on as a subscriber.

But today it looks like Lahmers and Decker and others in the Stone Creek area will get general telephone service by July 1.

The state utilities commission ordered the company to give them telephones by that date.

WEATHER TROUBLE

JACKSON, Mich. (UP) —Beck Gardens, a floral company, planted some pansies which were supposed to bloom next spring. But high temperatures and balmy breezes upset the time table. The pansies started blooming in mid-December.

New Scenic Type Bus Gets Approval of PUCO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state utilities commission has revised its safety rules for buses to permit a new scenic type bus to operate in Ohio.

The bus, which went into production this month, has a two-level passenger compartment with a plastic "bubble" on top, but does not have an emergency exit door required by Ohio rules.

Instead of the emergency exit door the new bus has large windows hinged at the top that can be opened at the bottom by lifting a lever. The commission decided windows provide as good or better emergency exits as emergency doors.

PUCO Hearing Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state utilities commission has announced a public hearing set for next Tuesday in Marietta on protests because Trail Run Telephone Co. service has been cancelled.

Residents of Rt. 1, Newport, and Belles Run in Washington County had asked Ohio Bell Telephone Co. service. The commisson said both sides asked the hearings be cancelled. The case was continued for reassignment or other action.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

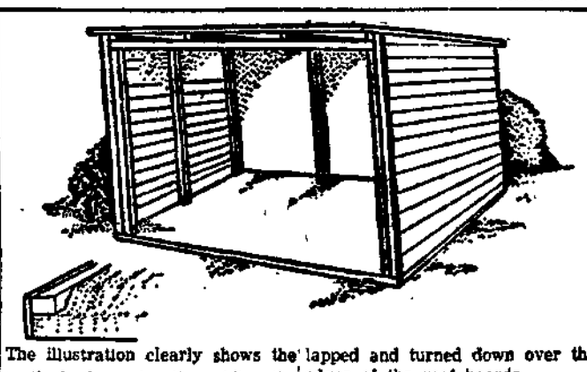
By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

There is hardly anything as convenient and handy to have on your place as a tool shed. These small structures enable the average home owner to use his garage for the purpose for which it was designed, and eliminates cluttering up the car space with lawnmowers, rollers, rakes and spades, etc. The tool house is also an ideal place for fertilizers and other baled materials.

The tool house shown can very easily be built by the average man who is capable of cutting lumber to size. The structure shown is about ten feet long, eight feet deep and six feet, six inches high at the front. The method of building it is simplicity itself, and it can be erected in three or four days.

The job is begun by leveling off the ground and building a wood form four inches deep which is to be the foundation and the floor as well. After two inces of the concrete is spread inside the form, 2 x 4's are laid along the back and on both sides, as shown by the thumbnail sketch. When the concrete has hardened and the form is stripped off, the work commences.

All the structural members are 2 x 4's, such as wall studs, the header over the doorway and the roof rafters. The structure has a pitch toward the rear wall, which is six inches lower than the front.



The illustration clearly shows the method of construction. After the framework is finished, the roof, sides and back are sheathed with common tongue - and - groove sheathing. The roof is covered with black roofing paper with the seams lapped and turned down over the edges of the roof boards.

The use of first grade lumber is by no means essential, and if the building is decently painted it makes quite an attractive addition to the place.

Unemployment Checks Called Form of Insurance, Not Charity

"One of the most controversial laws on the statute books of Ohio!"

That's what people have long said about Ohio's Unemployment Compensation Act. Controversial or not, it assuredly is one of the most widely misunderstood.

Authority for that statement is Fred B. Scherff, manager of the Marion area office of the Ohio State Employment Service, operating arm of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, state-federal agency charged with administration of the law.

Law Not Known

In recent weeks, many residents of Marion, Hardin, Wyandot, Morrow and Delaware Counties have come to the Marion area BUC offices for the express puspose of "signing up" for unemployment benefits. Their questions generally indicate they have but slight knowledge of the law.

"Unemployment Compensation," explained Scherff, "is not a dole, nor is it charity in any form. It is actually a type of insurace in which 'policies' are held by some 2,500,000 Ohio workers. The purpose is to protect working men and women against total loss of income for a limited length of time when they become unemployed through no fault of their own."

One of the most popular misconceptions, as pointed out by Scherff is the prevalent idea that workers pay part of the cost of their unemployment insurance. This, he said, is not true: the money used to pay benefits is put up by employers who pay a certain percentage of their taxable payroll into the unemployment trust fund.

Length of Time

"Another misunderstanding," he said, "has to do with the length of time required to pay that first benefit check. Without a doubt, anyone who loses his job is under economic pressure. This may account for the fact that some of our claimants obviously expect a check to be handed to them on their first or second visits.

"What may people fail to realize is that this is essentially an insurance program, and that the taking of claims and the payment of benefits are subject to all of the checks and balances commonly found in a commercial insurance operation. Broadly speaking, there are two basic determinations to make and both require time. The first involves the claimant's potential entitlement to benefits, whether he ever files a claim or not. The second is his actual entitlement — this with respect to a specific week of unemployment, to qualify for which the claimant must meet a prescribed set of requirements."

Nevertheless, the questions persist. "How much can I get?" "How soon can I get it and for how long?" "What do I have to do to obtain benefits?"

Answers to these questions will be found in subsequent articles in this series.

Forecast of Future To Be Feature of Farm, Home Week

COLUMBUS, O. — Ohio residents will get a preview of the agricultural future at the 42nd annual Ohio Farm and Home Week, March 23-26, George Crane, assistant extension director at Ohio State University said Friday.

Crane says agricultural engineers at Ohio State University and the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station will tell about a new way to lick weather hazards at harvest time.

Night sessions give a new look to the horticulture program. They will present new and better varieties of fruits, vegetables and flowers developed by research.

The new emphasis on agricultural policy and its impact on Ohio farm families is a feature on Thursday's program. Other topics that day include discussions on marketing, importance of agriculture to the national economy and spiritual values of farm life.

Other departmental plans are in what one department chairman called "the dream stage." He said, "The dream is so new we don't want to talk about it yet." They expect to have plans ready to announce in a short time.

Only one dwelling in three in Paris, France, is less than 20 years old.

Building Permits

Three building permits with a total valuation of $11,525 were issued at the Marion City Clerk's office during the week from Jan. 30 through Feb. 4. In the previous week, four were issued with a valuation of $3,650. The permits were:

George and Geneva Wilhelm, new home at 602 Uhler Ave., $8,000.

Leo and James Miller, corner Congress St. and Highland Ave., house, $3,500.

Improvements: William DeLauder, 582 E. Mark St., porch, $25.

There are approximately 160,000,000 acres of land in the continental United States under United States Forest Service jurisdiction or slightly more than one acre per citizen.

Thursday-Saturday — Double feature, "Man in the Attic" starring Jack Palance, Constance Smith and Bryan Palmer, and "Highway Dragnet" with Richard Conte, Joan Bennett and Wanda Hendrix.

STATE

Sunday-Monday — "Flame of Calcutta" and "Law and Order."

Tuesday-Wednesday — "Something for the Birds" and "Battle Zone."

Thursday-Friday — "A Perilous Journey" and "Confidence Girl."

Saturday — "Sky Commando" and "On Top of Old Smokey."

THIS ACTION SCENE is taken from the 3-D picture, "Cease Fire," which will be one attraction of a double feature Thursday through Saturday at the Palace Theater.

'Cantor Story' To Open At Ohio Theater Tonight

"The Eddie Cantor Story," the life story of one of America's greatest entertainers and citizens who sang and danced his way from poverty to fame and fortune, will be the attraction tonight through Wednesday at the Ohio Theater. It is in technicolor.

His career began on the lower east side of New York and continued from Broadway to nation-wide radio, through Hollywood and now television. Eddie Cantor today is one of the leading workers for charity in the country.

The picture tells mostly of the entertainment part of his life, the story of Gus Edwards' Minstrels, of the Ziegfield Follies where Eddie starred with Will Rogers, of Ida, his wife, whom he wooed and won as a young man and who is still at his side today, of their five daughters and practically all of show business of the last 40 years. Included are all the songs he has made famous such as "Makin' Whoopee," "Ma, He's Makin' Eyes At Me," "If You Knew Susie" and others.

Keefe Brasselle plays Eddie Cantor, and seen as Ida, his wife, is Marilyn Erskine.

Billed for Thursday through Saturday is a double feature, "Man in the Attic," a murder mystery starring Jack Palance, Constance Smith and Bryon Palmer, and "Highway Dragnet," another murder mystery, starring Richard Conte, Joan Bennett and Wanda Hendrix.

"Man in the Attic" is the story of one of the most terrifying killers in the annals of Scotland Yard. Jack Palance, in the role of a young medical pathologist with a mania for killing pretty young women, manages to elude the police despite six murders committed in London's Whitechapel district.

In "Highway Dragnet," Conte is seen as a hitch-hiker, newly discharged from the U. S Marines, on his way to the home of a friend near the Salton Sea. Enroute through Las Vegas, he meets an ex-model, who is found dead the following morning. Although innocent, he is suspected of the murder and a manhunt is on.

Martin, Lewis Comedy Now Showing at Palace

Currently playing through Monday at the Palace Theater is "Money From Home", 3-D technicolor production starring Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

"Stranger on the Prowl", which stars Paul Muni and Joan Lorring, is billed with "Dragon's Gold" Tuesday and Wednesday. The latter stars John Archer and Hillary Brooke.

The former tells of a man who inadvertently kills a woman and seeks refuge with a small boy and a servant girl.

The vicious ruthless pursuit of $7 million in hidden gold loot in mysterious Hong Kong is the story of "Dragon's Gold." John Archer, a young American, and Hillary Brooke, a beautiful English girl, are caught in the chain of events which make them targets for the attack by gunmen of an outlawed Chinese general who murders in quest of the fabulous treasure.

Billed for Thursday through Saturday is another double feature, "Cease Fire" and "Man in Hiding."

"Cease Fire," in 3-D, is the story of a 14-man patrol which probed deep behind the enemy lines on the last day of the war to scout an enemy troop concentration. It relates what happens on the patrol, the adventures encountered by the fighting men and their attitudes toward the war.

"Man in Hiding," starring Paul Henreid as a combination attorney and private eye, tells of a city-wide search for an escaped killer in London.

2 Technicolor Films To Be Shown at State

Two technicolor productions "Flame of Calcutta" starring Denise Darcel and Patric Knowles, and "Law and Order" with Ronald Regan and Dorothy Malone, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Something For the Birds" and "Battle Zone." The former stars Victor Mature and Patricia Neal, and heading the cast in the latter are John Hodiak and Stephen McNally.

Vera Ralston and Scott Brady are the stars of the film, "A Perilous Journey," which will be the main attraction of the double feature Thursday and Friday. Completing the billing will be "Confidence Girl" with Tom Conway and Hillary Brooke.

Saturday only, the attractions will be "Sky Commando" starring Dan Duryea and Frances Gifford, and "On Top of Old Smokey" with Gene Autry and Smiley Burnette.

"Pittsburgh" on Marion Theater's Double Bill

"Pittsburgh" starring Marlene Dietrich, Randolph Scott and John Wayne, and "Green Hell," co-starring Joan Bennett and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion Theater.

In the former, Scott and Wayne are seen as miners, rivals for the attentions of another miner's daughter, and there are fights for romance and fights for power before the picture ends. The latter is the story of a cultured, refined woman who suddenly finds herself a captive of the jungle, marooned in the camp of six explorers.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are two thrill features filled with danger and daring. They are "The Big Break" and "Outrage of the Orient."

Clark Gable, Ava Gardner and Grace Kelly star in "Mogambo," which will be the main attraction of the double feature playing Thursday through Saturday. Completing the billing will be "Savage Frontier" starring Allan "Rocky" Lane and his stallion Black Jack.

"Mogambo" is the exciting drama of an expedition leader who becomes involved in a triangular relationship with an American show girl and the wife of an English scientist. It was filmed in technicolor and a four-months safari through 10,000 miles of British East Africa and French Equatorial Africa.

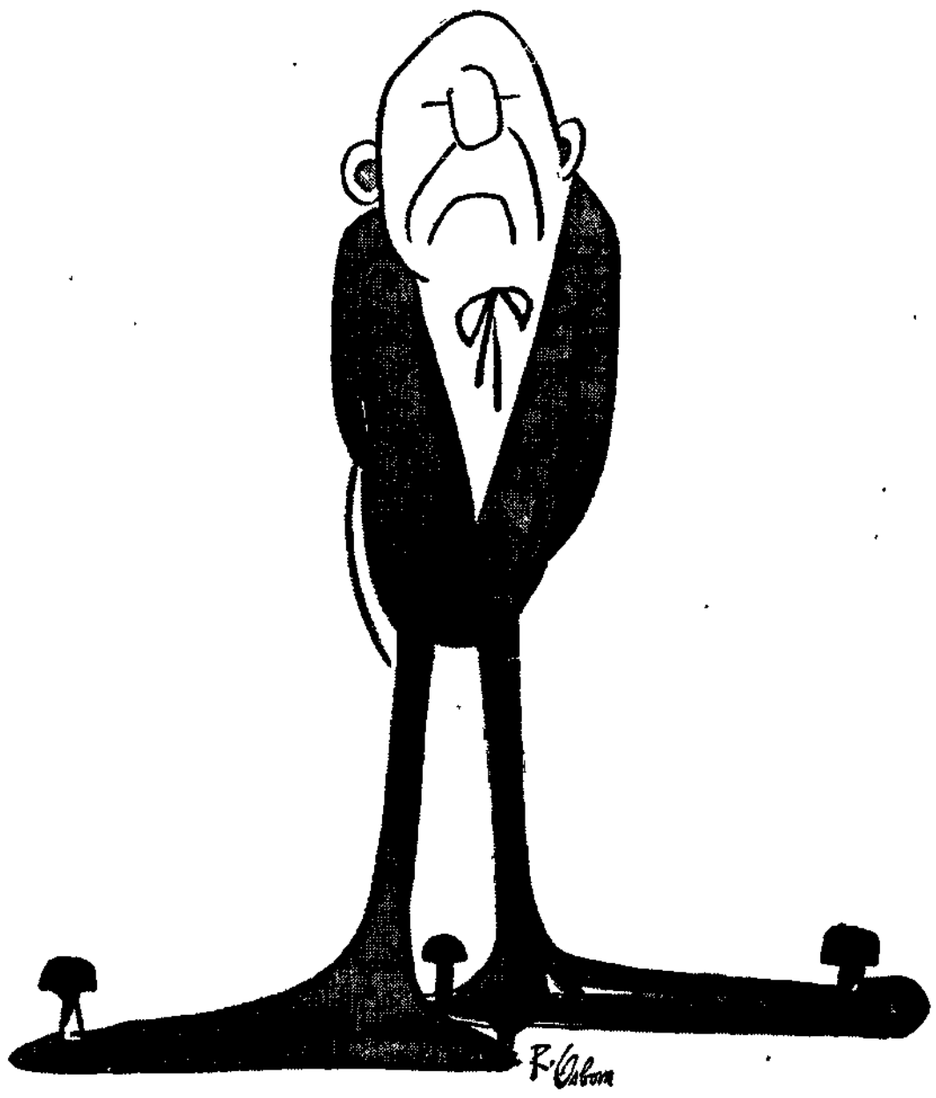
No. 2 in a series of RARE CREATURES:



THE FLAT-FOOTED FUDDY

dreams of cracker-barrel days and can't stand products that sell too fast

A FLAT-FOOTED FUDDY is a storekeeper who refuses to stock what the customer wants.

Keeps the sales down that way — so that he doesn't have to refill shelves or bother with streams of busy customers.

Naturally the FUDDY is a rare creature, almost extinct.

The modern retailer, fortunately, carries the products that move the fastest — the brands that customers want.

He is sure, of course, that the brand preferences come from the influence of newspaper ads. Naturally. When he advertises he automatically uses the newspaper because he knows that just about all his customers read it.

In fact most retailers use it. Last year while national advertisers were spending $526 million in local newspapers, retailers were spending 85% of their money telling their customers where to buy those national brands.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!

St. Mary Seeks Second Spot in Loop Tonight

St. Mary's Irish seek the runner-up position in the Mid-Ohio Conference tonight on the Coliseum floor when they tangle with the Elm Valley Aces.

Both squads take 2-1 league marks into tonight's final league game. Mt. Gilead, which dropped the locals in the league match early in the season and then came back last week to lose to the same Irish, clinched the conferece pennant last night.

A slim 62-58 win over Cardington at Mt. Gilead gave the Indians a 4-0 league mark. Richwood has finished its league schedule at 1-3 while Cardington went 0-4 in the league.

Coach Ray Robbins' forces will be seeking their second win over the Aces this season. In an earlier meeting in the holiday cage carnival here, the locals rolled by Elm Valley 54-40.

Both quintets show wins over Richwood and Cardington and losses to Mt. Gilead in conference action. Elm Valley has whipped Richwood 64-51 and Cardington 52-49 while losing to the Indians 49-47. The Irish have downed Richwood 72-50 and Cardington 72-49 while falling before Mt. Gilead 53-51. The second meeting of the two clubs last week ended in a 55-49 victory for St. Mary.

Elm Valley will likely go with John Humes, Walt Borchers, Gene Borden, Bob Curran and Ed Vanausdle. The locals are expected to counter with Mike Anderson, Roger Micheli, Butch Merchant, Jack O'Keeffe and Larry Ryan. Also likely to see action are Jerry Ballenger, John Messenger and Don Shoemaker.

The locals will be after their 11th win of the year. Two straight wins and seven in the last eight games have boosted the Irish season record to 10-5.

Four games remain on the St. Mary schedule after tonight. Games with Johnsville Feb. 9 and Delaware Willis Feb. 13 will be played here before the Irish journey to Fredericktown Feb. 16 Final game of the season is Feb. 19 here with Marysville.

Chesterville Takes Morrow Cage Title

CHESTERVILLE — Chesterville clinched the Morrow County League title here last night after rolling past Sparta 56-47 for its tenth win in 11 county league starts. Its lone loss was to Iberia.

Community Service Sunday To Climax Youth Week

Event Planned by Young People Will Be Held In Trinity Church

Climax of the Youth Week observance in which young people of Marion churches have joined, both in their own churches and collectively, will come Sunday night with a union service at Trinity Baptist Church. The community-wide effort has been sponsored by the Marion Christian Youth Movement, young people's department of the Marion County Council of Churches.

A number of young people will take part in the community service, and in the morning they will be in charge of services in several of their own churches.

MUSIC AT THE service will be by the Harding High School Choir directed by L. G. Jones, and a message on "The Center of the World" will be given by the speaker, Rev. Walter C. Eyster of Epworth Methodist Church. There will be a special offering for youth work.

Call to worship will be given by Robert Knachel, and the invocation by the host pastor, Rev. J. B. Holloway. Youth Week statement, including the purpose of the MCYM will be presented by Carol Keck. Scripture will be read by Diana Jones, and prayer will be by Murray Leeper.

FIVE YOUNG people presenting the feature, "Youth's Answer," will be Kenneth Kirkpatrick who will talk on "Youth Serving His Best Self." Deanne Herron, "Youth Serving His Church," Paul Foster, "Youth Serving His Community," Ann Larkin, "Youth Serving His Nation," and Richard Mull, "Youth Serving the World." This will precede the message by Rev. Eyster. Miss Judy Maxim, youth organist of Trinity Church, will be the accompanist for singing, and other young people from the host church will serve as ushers.

Plans for a future activity of the interdenominational group are for the annual Religious Drama Festival set for March 14 with Mrs. Lester Hines as chairman and Miss Margaret Huffman as advisor. Other MCYM activities of the year are breakfast meetings for the high school students. A radio skit was presented Tuesday night over Station WMRN as a part of the Youth Week program. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ginder are the adult counselors for MCYM.

THE OFFERING at the service Sunday night will give the young people an opportunity to share in support of a Christian youth program in Angola, Africa, and to contribute equally to the local and state youth councils under a plan in which the "dollar works in three dimensions." The fund for Africa is administered by the Ohio Christian Youth Movement with headquarters in Columbus.

To share the observance of Youth Week, the Trinity Baptist Senior High Fellowship will conduct a devotional program for the residents of the Waddell Ladies Home at 2 p.m. on Sunday. Miss Julia Gorman, chairman of the Faith Committee of the Youth Fellowship, will be in charge of the service. At the church's morning worship service the Junior High Fellowship will actively participate by sitting as a body in the sanctuary. Sue Smiley will read the Scripture, and Linda Price will offer the Prayer of Intercession before the sermon.

Other individual church participation includes the following services which have been announced for the day.

IN RECOGNITION of National Youth Week, the members of the Luther League of Emanuel Lutheran Church will worship in a body at the Sunday morning service. Mrs. L. G. Jones is the director of the youth program of the Luther League.

Members of the Central Christian Church Youth Fellowship and the Chi Rho will lead the worship service in the morning. Boy Scouts will attend the service in a group.

Evening worship service at 7 at the Calvary EUB Church will be directed by the Youth Fellowship. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dutt will entertain the young people following the meeting.

ELWIN FALOR, son of Rev. H. V. Falor of Oakland EUB Church and Mrs. Falor, will give the message in the morning church service, and in the evening the young people from Oakland will join in the union service.

For Youth Fellowship meeting of Greenwood EUB Church at 6:30 p.m., a Youth Week theme, "So Send I You," will be the topic for discussion.

At Fite Memorial Baptist Church, Youth Fellowship members will conduct the evening service, with Larry Davis serving as "intern" for the pastor.

Devotions at the worship service of First Church of the Brethren in the morning will be given by the youth group. Boy Scouts will be in charge of the evening service.

Revival Will Continue

Revival services in progress at 118 N. State St. will continue through Feb. 12 with Rev. Harry L. Weaver of Fredericksburg, O., as the evangelist. He is associated with the Akron Baptist Temple of which Rev. Dallas F. Billington is pastor.

Entering the field of evangelism following graduation from the Bible Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth, Tex., he has traveled abroad in 13 countries and has spent some time in Palestine. In the public services which he holds he gives in addition to his sermons an account of his experiences in traveling and shows colored pictures of his trips. His Gospel messages are illustrated by colored wall charts, and special singing in a part of the services each night.

Maranatha Bible

Concluding message in a series from the book of Joshua will be given at the morning service at the Maranatha Bible Church on Sunday. Communion service will follow. Anniversary of the Bible Fellowship radio broadcast directed by the pastor, Rev. Earl L. Holliday, will be observed at 9:30 a.m. over Station WHKC, Columbus. Sunday will begin the sixth year of the program which was put on the air first over Station WMRN, Marion, the first Thursday in February in 1948. The subject will be "Serving Till Jesus Comes," and testimonies and music will be by Misses Patty Holliday, Loretta Caskey, Barbara Newsome and Vera Trent, and Vern Griffith.

Assembly of God

Coming to Marion Monday night for a rally at the Assembly of God Church on Herman St. will be the Christ Ambassadors organization of the Columbus Zone. Rev. William R. Eccles of Chillicothe, zone chairman, will be in charge of the service at 7:45. Guest speaker will be Rev. Joseph Ferrante of Fostoria. This meeting will be for all the young people of the section. Rev. John W. Blair is host pastor.

Asbury Methodist

Guest preacher at Asbury Methodist Church on Sunday morning will be Rev. J. R. Dallas of Marion, a former pastor of Oakland EUB Church. He will replace in the pulpit the pastor, Earl N. Hale, who has been ill and will carry on with the series of sermons on the general subject of "Methodist Beliefs," dealing with the particular topic of the Bible.

First Presbyterian

Filling the pulpit of First Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning will be Rev. Thomas G. Holmes superintendent of Ohio Presbyterian Homes.

Salem E and R

Another in a series of sermons on the general theme of "Women of the Bible" will be given at the morningworship service of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church on Sunday. This will be a study of Hannah, the mother of Samuel. On Monday night, the Church School committee will meet with Mrs. Horace Taber presiding.

Emmanuel Baptist

Sixth in a series of sermons on the spirit world will be given at the Emmanuel Baptist Church evening service on Sunday. This will be an explanation of "the activities of Satan and his power."

Quarterly business meeting of the congregation will be held on Tuesday night for all members of the church. On Thursday afternoon, the Ladies' Missionary Prayer Band will meet at the Carl Ford home. Plans will be made to send to Africa children's clothing which the members have been making. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Ford, vice president.

Calvary EUB

World Service Day will be observed Sunday morning at Calvary EUB Church with the Women's Society of World Service in charge. Mrs. Charles Feaver will direct the program as president, and other members will take part in the opening service of worship. Christian Service Guild members will compose the choir and present an anthem. Rev. Clyde Wendell, pastor, will speak on a missionary theme. Young people will direct the evening service.

Members will attend the second session of the denominational Leadership Training School Monday night at Greenwood Church. At the midweek service on Wednesday night, special prayer will be offered in behalf of the coming union EUB evangelistic services at Oakland Church. The WSWS will meet Thursday night. A meeting of the Brotherhood scheduled for Monday night has been postponed.

Greenwood EUB

Members of the Greenwood EUB Church WSWS will be in charge of the worship service on Sunday morning. Taking part will be Mrs. Dorothy Ervin, Mrs. Leroy Bowers, Mrs. Morris Matteson, Mrs. Leroy Hanning, Mrs. Raymond Donaugh, Mrs. Edward Cross, Mrs. Bertha Gaster, Mrs. Paul Force, Mrs. Walter Winfield, Mrs. Lynn Harris, and Mrs. Perry Strine. A new study in Hebrews will be started Sunday at 7 p.m. On Thursday night, the regular WSWS meeting will be held, with election of officers. Mrs. Gaster will be the hostess. The denominational School on Christian Education will be held at the church on Monday night.

Epworth Methodist

Following through in the series of sermons on "Methodist Beliefs," the subject at Epworth Methodist Church for morning worship on Sunday will be belief in the Bible. The special anthem will be "How Lovely Are the Messengers." On Thursday, WSCS Day will be held with guest speaker for the program at 1:30 p.m. an Ohio Conference WSCS officer, Mrs. Richard Bauer of Bellefontaine. She is the conference vice president. Executive board meeting at 11:30 will be followed by the luncheon in charge of Circle 4 at 12:30 p.m. Devotions will be given by Circle 5.

Trinity Baptist

A feature of the morning worship service at Trinity Baptist Church on Sunday will be the observance of the Lord's Supper, and the reception of a large class of new members who have recently applied for membership in the church. The topic of the communion meditation by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Holloway, will be "Lord, Is It I?" The missionary circles will meet as follows: the Judson, on Wednesday with Mrs. J. B. Holloway, and on Thursday, the Ann Hasseltine with Mrs. J. L. Siegley, the Ruth Mather at the church, the Seagrave, all-day work meeting at the church, the Inner, with Mrs. R. B. Wingett, having a bazaar as well, and the Lydia, with Mrs. W. E. Shover.

Prospect Street

First meeting of the Prospect Street Methodist Junior Church for children from 6 to 11 will be held Sunday morning at the parsonage. For convenience of parents of small children, a nursery will be open during worship hour. Recreation at 5 p.m. will begin the youth program and the "snack supper" at 6 will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Moler, Miss Della Owen, and Mrs. Warren Diehl. At 6:30, the Intermediate Fellowship will have a panel discussion, and the Senior Youth Fellowship will meet, with combined vespers following at 7:15. On Thursday night, the Sunshine Bible Class will meet.

Wesley Methodist

Observance of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be held at morning worship at Wesley Methodist Church Sunday. The communion meditation will be on the Methodist Church's belief in the Bible, in keeping with the scheduled denominational emphasis series. A meeting of the WSCS is set for Thursday night, preceded by a fininance meeting. Past presidents will be recognized and presented tokens of appreciation.

NEW CHURCH SERIES

Start of a new Sunday night study series on the book of Hebrews, open to the public and held preceding the regular evening worship, is set for 7 p.m. Sunday at Greenwood EUB Church. The pastor, Rev. L. H. Harris who has previously taught the course, will give a verse by verse exposition of the book during the half-hour period before his preaching service.

PAN-HELLENIC SPEAKER

Speaker for a meeting of the Marion Pan-Hellenic Association Monday evening will be Dr. Robert Weimer, psychiatrist at the Smith Clinic. The meeting is scheduled for 8:30 o'clock in the YMCA. Mrs. James C. Woods Jr., is chairman for reservations.

ORGAN RECITAL SLATED

An organ recital will be presented Sunday afternoon at Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church by a Columbus musician, Charles Ellery. Time of the program will be 3 o'clock. This will be a demonstration of the electric instrument which has been installed for services for approval by the congregation.

War of the Sexes

A Sermonette

By REV. W. LINCOLN STAFFORD
Pastor of Wesley Methodist Church

"All men are beasts"; "Men are all alike; they're wolves", "you can't trust men." "A smart woman can twist a man around her little finger if she knows the tricks." "A few tears, a few kisses and a few soft words, used at just the right times, will get you anything you want out of a man." "Diamonds are a girl's best friend. Don't be a fool. Dig all the gold you can out of the poor fish." These are just a few of the expressions you hear from women that show part of their side in the "war of the sexes."

The men will show their side of the war by such rmarks as "Women are all alike." "It's no use to try to understand women." "Every woman needs a good beating once in a while to keep her happy." "Women are all out to make a sucker of a man." "Treat 'em rough, that's my motto." "Women are a lot of fun but you'd better watch out; they're dangerous." "All a woman wants out of man is his money." "Be smart and don't let any dame hook you." "What a woman doesn't know won't hurt her." "Watch out for a woman's intuition. She can read your mind."

WHAT ALL THIS adds up to is war. The comic strips, TV plays, soap operas, story books, comedians and cartoons all make the war of the sexes a part of their bag of tricks. Most of the time it is a cold war but it breaks out into a hot war quite often as our newspaper stories of divorce, crimes of passion and the antics of frustrated and unhappy people of both sexes constantly illustrate.

What, if anything, can be done about it? The christian religion has the answer. To begin with you can personally declare peace, so far as you are concerned, with the opposite sex. You can do this by getting the insight, if you are a man, that women are people! If you are a woman, you can find out that men are people! Sometimes we act as if we thought men and women were of different species, like dogs and cats. We need to find out that we both are human!

NOW I'M NOT ARGUING THAT sexes are both alike. That would be ridiculous. We need to be aware of the differences. In the words of Jesus, we need to be "wise as serpents and harmless as doves" in this matter. The trouble with most of us is that we try to be, so far as the opposite sex is concerned, "wise as serpents" but we forget that Jesus added that we should be "harmless as doves." The sexes are different but their similarities are more than their differences.

Both sexes want love, appreciation, a feeling of worth, a feeling of being needed by somebody, a chance to show and receive affection and a thousand other things that they have in common.

THE WAR STARTS back in early childhood. Parents warn their daughters "Don't talk to strange men." They learn this lesson so well that they never can get over the feeling that men are their mortal enemies. Little boys are taught to despise the girls by such remarks as 'Don't be a sissy. Don't cry like a girl." You're a boy!"

You need to think through your past experiences from earliest childhood and become aware of the ways in which your training causes you now to distrust the other sex. The help of a pastor who will take time to counsel with you, may be needed.

Most important of all you need to find heavenly love. Heavenly love is something that millions of people have utterly no idea of. It comes after you have learned how to forgive everyone in your life that has ever in any way hurt you. This forgiveness is not easy and most of us need instruction in how to forgive.

AFTER WE HAVE learned the art of forgiving, we will get heavenly love if we:

(1). Pray for it. Our daily prayer should be "O God fill me with thy perfect love for all people. Increase thy love in my life."

(2). We need to act on the basis of love. We may do this rather cautiously at first but in a short time we will find out that we can be friendly with everyone on a level above sex attraction. We enjoy more and more widening our circle of friendships to include everyone, young or old, rich or poor, white or black, Protestant, Jew or Catholic, believer or non-believer, educated or ignorant, male or female.

(3). It will help to study the Bible. Especially such passages as 1 Corinthians 13, 1 John 4:1-21, John 3:16 etc. will help. Soon you will learn the true meaning of the verse "God is love." You'll find out that He can always supply you with plenty of love for as many people as you want to love. God is a love-millionaire and since you are his son or daughter, you too can be a love-millionaire. This will all bring a new joy into your life—a "joy unspeakable." You will find out that you have a new appreciation of both sexes, as well as everything else. For you there will be, as we read in Galatins 3:28, . . ."neither Jew nor Greek, . . .neither bond nor free. . .neither male nor female; for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." For you there will be, as we read in Galatians sexes.

Have you made this important decision yet?

Are you leaving this choice of a family monument for someone else to make later . . . hastily perhaps? This is a choice not for today, but for all time . . . one of the most important decisions you will ever have to face. Come in . . . now . . . and let us show you our extensive selection of what we believe are the world's finest monuments . . . beautiful, permanent Rock of Ages family monuments. And every Rock of Ages family monument bears a signed guarantee to you, your heirs or descendants.

Japan's Merchant Fleet on Increase

TOKYO (UP) — Japan's war-crippled merchant fleet recovered considerably during the past eight years, but there is still a wide gap between Japan and other countries.

A recent transportation ministry check showed that Japanese merchant marine tonnage, which was 1,300,000 gross tons at the time of the surrender in 1945, rose almost three times to 3,030,000 gross tons as of October, 1953.

This figure is 78 per cent of the 3,900,000 gross tons possessed by Japan in 1934-36 and 54 per cent of the 1940 peak of 5,600,000 tons.

However, the total of ship bottoms held by the United States increased to 25,040,000 tons in 1952 from 9,340,000 tons in 1939 and Panamanian registered ships registered a rise to 3,610,000 tons from 720,000 over the same period.

Japanese vessels, including tankers, carried to and from Japan in 1952 a total of 12,400,000 tons of which imports totaled 10,800,000.

This is only 49 per cent (36 per cent for imports and 20 per cent for exports; of the average of 25,400,000 tons (imports 17,200,000 and exports 8,200,000 tons) carried during the 1934-36 period.

The 1952 figure is also far less than the 32,100,000 tons (imports 21,600,000 tons and exports 10,500,000 tons) transported in 1940.

Japanese ships in 1952 carried 43 per cent (45 per cent for imports and 32 per cent for exports) of this amount as against 58 per cent (57 per cent for imports and 63 per cent for exports) in 1934-36.

HONST GROCERIES

ALBION, Mich. (UP) — A man walked into police headquarters, placed two sacks of groceries in front of the startled desk sergeant, and said "They are not mine," and walked away. Police later learned that a delivery boy at a supermarket had placed the groceries in the wrong car.

NAME'S THE SAME

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (UP)—Daniel Boone, 25 was cleared by an Orange County grand jury of first-degree grand larceny charges. The grand jury, however, indicted Jesse James Bivens, also 25, on a charge of second-degree arson for allegedly setting his car on fire to collect insurance.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Self-Reliance Still Lives

This next week, the birthday of Abraham Lincoln comes round once more. There will be many things said about Lincoln because he was a many - sided figure of history, but the thing about him that has always impressed me most is that quality of self - reliance which brought him from his backwoods log cabin to the White House at the most crucial time in our nation's history.

DR. PEALE

You may remember the stories of Lincoln as a boy learning his letters at the fire long into the night; or splitting rails to keep alive while he was fitting himself to practice law; or keeping store to help things along.

You may be tempted to ask yourself whether, in our country today, these qualities of self - reliance have disappeared. Aren't we getting soft and lazy?

I DON'T THINK so. Just last spring, I received a post card from a college boy which he sent to my farm at Pawling. He said he would mow lawns, paint, wash dishes, clean cars; in other words, he wanted to work. I had no work of that kind at the moment; so I tore the card in two and started to toss it into the wastebasket. Then suddenly, I pieced it together with Scotch tape and put it in my files. Here was a boy willing to work and that warmed my heart, and I made a point of finding jobs for him.

The great breed hasn't run out. A few years back, I got off a train at 5 in the morning to make a speech in a college chapel and found a boy waiting to meet me. "Are you Dr. Peale," he asked. And when I said yes, he explained: "I'm sorry to say that the president of our college has been detained in New York. So I'm acting for him both as your chauffeur and your official host."

He drove me to the president's house, showed me to a room and told me that breakfast would be ready for me at 7. When I came down to the dining room, there was the boy wearing a waiter's apron. He served me a wonderful meal and I told him it was so good I wanted to congratulate the cook personally. So he took me out into the kitchen; there was no one else there—he stood by the stove, bowed and said, "Meet th cook."

I MADE MY speech in the chapel and, afterwards, someone in the choir behind me sang a beautiful tenor solo. I turned around to get a look at the singer and discovered that it was the same boy.

When he drove me back to the train, I asked him to tell me about himself. His father, he said, had been well-to-do, and when he had first come to college, his father had given him a car and a substantial allowance. But then, at the end of his first year, his father had lost all his money and had told the son that he couldn't afford to send him back to college.

"When I was young," the father said, "I had no money. I went to college because I worked my way through. God helped me do it. But you've been brought up as a rich man's son and I guess you're pretty soft, and so you will have to drop out of college."

"That annoyed me," the boy told me, "and I said, 'Dad, if you did it, I can do it, too.' I went back to school and have worked ever since. God has helped me. And today my father and I are closer than ever because I can see what he had in him and he knows I have something in me. Whatever strength we've got in our blood hasn't died out."

WHEN MY TRAIN pulled away from the platform, I looked back and there he stood, smiling, happy and self-reliant. I've followed his career since. Of course he has done well because he learned the vital lesson that, with God's help, you can depend on yourself.

Our country is full of younsters like that. No, Lincoln's breed has not died out.

NYC Joined by Pennsy In Reduction of Fares

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A one-third reduction in round trip fares between Columbus, Dayton, Xenia and Cincinnati was announced today by the Pennsylvania Railroad's western region.

Ellsworth M. Holt, general passenger agent here, said the new rates will be effective Feb. 15. He said the "bargain fares" are an experiment to test public response.

Thursday, the New York Central Railroad also announced fare reductions between Columbus, Cleveland and Cincinnati.

PRIEST EXPELLED FROM GUATEMALA. The Rev. Sebastian Buccellato gives reporters in New York a grim picture of his expulsion from Guatemala on charges of allegedly "mixing in politics." The priest branded the charges "absolute lies" and said he was expelled "like a head of cattle" because the government "doesn't want leaders to give a moral doctrine . . . to resist Communist teachings. He was the third American expelled from Guatemala in two days.

Marion Man To Begin Alaska Church Crusade

Robert F. Williams, Marion businessman and church leader, has been assigned to the capital city of Juneau in the Methodist crusade of visitation evangelism for Alaska set up by the denomination's Board of Missions for Feb. 10-24.

His appointment was approved by the official board of Epworth Methodist Church here, where he is a lay leader, in December. He will be among 20 ministers and laymen from throughout this country taking part in the crusade the aim of which is to double the membership of the Methodist Church in the Territory called "the fastest growing community under the American Flag."

Those taking part will meet in Seattle, Wash., next Wednesday for a day of orientation and briefing and from there will proceed to their assignments to meet with pastors in the communities in which they will work. At the end of the week the pastors and their guests will go to Anchorage to make reports on progress of the campaign of visiting homes of prospective church members. A similar program in 1952 greatly increased Methodist membership in Alaska. The project is sponsored jointly by the church's Board of Evangelism and Board of Missions.

Conference Set By Mediators In A&P Strike

SCRANTON, Pa., (AP)—Union and management representatives meet here today to attempt settlement of a strike that threatens to close 153 A&P food stores in northeastern Pennsylvania and southern New York.

The meeting was arranged yesterday by federal and state mediators. In the meantime, the food chain made last minute plans to close the stores at 6 p.m. (EST) tonight for an indefinite period.

However, a spokesman for the striking union said the membership would vote either tonight or Sunday on any new proposal made by A&P in the negotiating session.

The union — Local 229, AFL-General Drivers and Helpers represents 200 workers in two main food supply warehouses for the northeastern Pennsylvania - southern New York area.

A&P has claimed that the strike, which began last Sunday, has made impossible the delivery of food to the 153 stores.

Neither disputant would discuss details of the strike. It was reported that a wage increase and better working conditions are the principal issues.

Churches To Recognize Boy Scouts at Services

Two Marion churches have announced recognition of Boy Scout Week at services on Sunday.

Members of Scout Troop 7 and of Cub Pack 7 will attend the morning worship service of Central Christian Church in a group. The Cub Scout leaders program will be held at the church Monday night.

In the evening at First Church of the Brethren to inaugurate Scout Week, members of Troop 32 will be given awards in keeping with their achievements during the year. The second Eagle Scout award to be given in the troop will be presented by Dr. A. J. Wagner to Wesley (Bud) Warwick. A former Eagle Scout award was earned by Gary McAfee. At the conclusion, a film will be shown.

Marysville Seed Firm Announces Expansion

O. M. Scott & Sons Co., Marysville lawn seed firm, has announced construction of new plants in Marysville and near Princeton, N. J.

Charles B. Mills, president of the firm, revealed the Marysville seed processing plant is expected to begin operations by April. He added that the new facilities will increase efficiency and expand processing capacity of the company, already the nation's largest lawn seed firm. According to Mills, the new plant will enable the company to concentrate its processing facilities under one roof and convert the present plant to office space.

New Type Racing Automobile Built by Marion Man

Car Will Get Initial Test At Florida State Fair Session Tomorrow

By ROBERT LISTON

High hopes will be the passenger when a racing car owned by Harold (Monk) McCurdy, president of the Safety Cab Co., and built in Marion by Harley Haines receives its initial trial in Tampa, Florida, this weekend.

This streamlined, bright yellow car is a new step in racing car design, and racing enthusiasts, experts and fans alike, will be watching it. For if it works, and Harley Haines is sure it will, the combination of light weight and high horsepower Haines has built into it should make it a consistent winner on the AAA Midwestern sprint car tracks this summer.

HAINES AND McCurdy, along with a group of other Marion supporters, have left for the Florida State Fair at Tampa. They will enter the car in races on Sunday and Feb. 16. Win or lose, they'll find out what the car can do and get a chance to iron out such "bugs" as may develop.

Haines calls this car his finest effort in 30 years of building racers.

He started working out his ideas on the drafting board last May and built it with the help of his son, Walter, in his auto body shop at 441 Wilson St.

Except for the engine, rear axle, brakes and hubs, Haines built the car entirely by hand, pounding the body out of two aluminum sheets, four feet by twelve. There is not a ripple or a dent in the curved metal sides; Haines' work is that good.

THE ENGINE IS a $7,000 Offenhauser, water cooled, 220 cubic inch, made by Meyer-Drake, whose engines have won the big race at Indianapolis for many years. It generates 300 horsepower with four cylinders. It has a double overhead cam shaft and uses Hillborn injector instead of a carburetor, a design borrowed from jet planes. The fuel is alcohol.

Hopes for the car rest in its weight—only 1300 pounds, 100 to 500 pounds lighter than similar models. The big engine should make the 1300 pounds "explode" at the start of a race, Haines figures. Simple arithmetic reveals that each "horse" is pulling only slightly more than four pounds in weight.

HAINES ACHIEVED this light weight by using a new type, oval aircraft tubing. Just how he put it together to achieve greater strength and less weight is his secret. Torsion bars are used in place of rear springs, resulting in better traction and steering. The torsion bars can be adjusted easily to track conditions. Magnesium wheels help decrease weight.

HARLEY HAINES sits at the wheel of the racer he built by hand. Constructed of light-weight aluminum and magnesium, the car is powered by a 300 horsepower Offenhauser water-cooled engine. With a racer weight of 1,300 pounds, the engine has to pull only four pounds per horsepower, which Haines figures should give the car a big jump on other heavier racing automobiles.

Brakes are the type, used in jet fighter planes.

Of interest is the lubrication system. Oil would never do the job, so caster oil is used because it alone will cling to hot surfaces, Haines said. This again is an adaptation from jet engines. The $4 a gallon oil is electrically pre-heated in a storage tank under the seat engine.

HAINES CLAIMS to be one of three complete racing car builders in the United States. The others are Curtiss-Craft on the West coast whose cars have won the Indianapolis race the last two years, and Turner-Tomshe in Konosha, Wis. which built the racer that holds the AAA Midwestern championship.

As for Haines, he began building cars in 1924 which have been entered in hundreds of races. In 1947 his cars came in one and two in the Central States Racing Association championship. The first was driven by Carl Scarborough, who died last year in the Indianapolis big car race, and the second by Bob Simpson, a former Marionite. Incidentally, Haines never drives himself. That is done by professional, licensed drivers, who earn 40 per cent of purse.

HE BUILD THE rocker arm type engine for another car that won a lot of races in the late 30's and still holds some track records Haines doesn't know who built the body for that car.

Haines expects to enter his latest model in 15 to 18 AAA sprint events this summer. He points out that these are strictly controlled by the automobile association Tracks are closely supervised and cars undergo a rigid safety inspection. Unlike hot-rod racing, safety is the by-word. "After all, these cars are worth, maybe, $18,000. You can't afford to have a crack-up," Haines explained.

Marion's only racing car builder has been an aircraft mechanic for 30 years, the first in Marion. He has had an auto body shop in its present location for 22 years. He resides at 645 Tyler St., and is the father of seven sons and three girls, ranging in age from 11 to 30 years. Walter, the oldest, is in business with his father.

Haines has high hopes for the Tampa races and the whole summer's activity. But he says, "Even if I don't make a nickel, the thrill of making them run and beating some of the big-money boys is enough for me."

Woman Shot, Slain By Rejected Suitor In Columbus Cafe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Authorities said a rejected suitor shot and killed a 17-year-old woman in a Columbus cafe yesterday, then walked to a drug store and phoned the police to "Come and get me."

In city jail is Paul J. Turner, 32, accused of killing Mrs. Virginia Raleigh before 25 patrons in the Moon-Glow Grill on Columbus' south side.

Turner was already under indictment in a shooting fray involving Mrs. Raleigh last Christmas Eve. Police said at that time Turner fired at Mrs. Raleigh, but missed her and wounded 19-year-old Dorothy Williams. Turner pleaded innocent to the charge of shooting with intent to kill, and was released on bond.

Witnesses said yesterday he walked into the cafe, approached the table where Mrs. Raleigh was sitting with another man and said:

"I missed you the first time. I'm going to kill you this time."

He fired several shots and Mrs. Raleigh slumped to the floor. She was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Stop Signs Arrive For County Roads

A partial order of stop signs to be installed on county roads has arrived, Marion County Engineer Reed Ours reported today.

Ours said his office and the county commissioners have been riding the county roads recently in an effort to plan an over-all system of establishing through roads among the main arteries of county roads.

Locations of the stop signs will be determined by the engineer's office and the county commissioners. Ours hopes to have the project completed within the next two months.

Marion Resident Faces Extradition Proceedings

Extradition proceedings for J. D. Ritchie, 48, of 688 N. Main St., are scheduled for Monday morning in Common Pleas Court.

Sheriff Glen Obenour today reported that his office apprehended Ritchie Friday after receiving extradition authorization from Ohio Governor Frank J. Lausche to return him to Florida where he is sought on grand larceny charges.

The extradition authorization came after information was received from Suwannee County, Florida, that Ritchie had been indicted on the larceny charge involving a cotton crop, Obenour said.

Ritchie is being held in the county jail.

Deaths and Funerals

Gelbaugh Infant

Jennifer Sue Gelbaugh, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Gelbaugh, of 193 Bellefontaine Ave., was found dead in bed about 3 a.m. today. Dr. R. H. Morgan, Marion County coroner, said death resulted from a congenital heart condition.

Born Nov. 26, last year, in Marion, the child was a daughter of Frederick and Anna Gale Coleman Gelbaugh.

Surviving with her parents are a sister and two brothers, Jean Ann, Jay, and Jerry Gelbaugh, and grandparents, Mrs. Harry Coleman of Waldo and Jay Gelbaugh of Marion.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. in the Gehm Funeral Home in Prospect. Rev. Albert Slack of Miamisburg, a brother-in-law of Mr. Gelbaugh, will officiate. Burial will be at Waldo. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p.m. Sunday.

John Becker

CRESTLINE — John Becker, 83, former Crestline resident, died in Valley View Rest Home, at 2:30 p.m. Friday.

Born in Canada April 10, 1869, a son of the late John and Margaret Koch Becker, he spent most of his life in Crestline, where he was employed as a Pennsylvania Railroad inspector.

Survivors are: one son, John Becker III, Somerset, Pa.; two brothers, Grover C. Becker of Miami, Fla., and William Becker of Worthington.

Funeral services will be held in the Garverick Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Sunday. Rev. H. Karl Diemer of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church will officiate. Burial will be made in Greenlawn Cemetery, Crestline.

Rens D. Brown

UPPER SANDUSKY — Rens Doll Brown, 81, a retired boiler maker, died at 5 a.m. Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry H. Waggoner of near Upper Sandusky. He had been ill two days.

He was born Dec. 2, 1872, near Thornville in Perry County, to William and Elizabeth Doll Brown. He was married in Findlay on May 15, 1894, to Anna Margaret Karcher. She died August 18, 1938.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Vilo Waggoner, with whom he made his home; a son William N. Brown, of Toledo; six grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Wilkie, of Columbus.

Brown had resided at his daughter's home, in Tymochtee Township, Wyandot County, for the past 28 years. He was a retired boiler maker and at one time owned and operated an oil field.

Services at the Bringman & Co. Funeral Home in Upper Sandusky will be at 2 p.m. Monday. The Rev. W. A. Tabbert, pastor of the Evangelical United Brethren Church here will officiate. Burial will be made in Pleasant Ridge Cemetery, west of Sycamore. Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. William Jenkins

MT. GILEAD — Mrs. Mary Jenkins, 91, died Thursday afternoon in her home northeast of Marengo. She was ill four weeks.

Born Feb. 15, 1862, at Woodsfield, O., she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hixenbaugh. Her husband, William Jenkins, died Sept. 24, 1886.

Surviving are her nine children, Mrs. Forest Foot, Mrs. Neva Knouff, Horace Jenkins, and Miss Aubrey Jenkins, all of near Marengo, Frank of Mansfield, Mrs Mary Squires of Chesterville, Mrs. Edna Ackerman of Philadelphia, Pa., Newell of Columbus, and Dale of Asheville, N.C., eight grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren. A son, Clarence, preceded here in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Chester Baptist Church north of Marengo. Rev. W. L. Cook, pastor, and Rev. E. G. Corwin of Galion will officiate. Burial will be in Bloomfield Cemetery. The body was returned from the Jacobs Funeral Home in Marengo to the Jenkins home where friends may call.

Emery O. Clement

LARUE — Emery O. Clement, 63, LaRue barber and resident here 17 years, died at 6:30 a.m. today in San Antonio Hospital in Kenton. He became ill and was admitted to the hospital on Friday afternoon, and death resulted from hemorrhage.

Born Sept. 24, 1890, in Hepburn, he was a son of Charles and Maggie Hunter Clement, natives of Hardin County. On Sept. 28, 1910, he married Evelyn Miller.

Surviving are his widow, and his two children, George Emery Clement and Mrs. Roy Brown, both of near Kenton, seven grandchildren, a brother, Vincent of Marion, and two sisters, Mrs. George Lingo of Columbus and Mrs. Roy Durkin of Kenton. A son, James A., preceded him in death.

Homecoming Win Notched by Iberia

IBERIA — Iberia gave Chesterville more breathing space at the top of the tight Morrow County League race here last night, spilling second-place Johnsville 70-62 in Iberia's homecoming game. It left both clubs with three losses in league competition.

The winners dumped in 33 points during the third period after a slow start to overtake Johnsville. The losers hit on only eight of 20 attempts from the charity circle while Iberia sunk 16 of 24.

Wal Chambers was the big gun for Iberia with 21 points but was closely followed by Don Robinson, who dropped in 19, and Howard Miller, who collected 18. Glen Myers caged 23 points for Johnsville and Lyle Snavely came in with 15.

Iberia's reserves made it 17 straight by trimming Johnsville 30-29.

. . . for THAT RAINY DAY!

The wise man doesn't wait 'til the rain falls before he gets himself an umbrella. Same sound sense applies to financial "rainy days." The money you meant to save—but didn't—won't do you a bit of good. Only money that will count is what you DID save . . . regularly, systematically, every pay day. Let your ever-growing savings account be your "umbrella" and you can take life's "rainy days" in your stride.

BE A SCOUT LEADER

The time you spend with these youngsters, moulding their very thoughts and character, will pay dividends in an improved city and nation. For these boys are the leaders of tomorrow — it is they who will influence the future. That's why it is so highly important that they be started in the right direction. So contact the Boy Scout Headquarters at 218 E. Church St. and offer your services . . . Scout leaders are urgently needed.

HELP BUILD A BETTER YOUTH . . . A BETTER MARION . . .

The nations of the world stand today at a crossroads. One turning leads to dreaded Communism, the other leads to the freedom for which our country stands. The influence and example of the free people of the world may well decide the destiny of humanity.

The Boy Scouts of America are in a position to tip the scales in the direction of liberty. Dealing with youth in the formative time of life and translating the ideals of democracy into daily living, this organization is a powerful force for freedom.

D ACHIEVEMENT!

MARION BOY SCOUTS "HELP FREEDOM RING"

It seems as though planned by Divine Providence that the Scouts should have come into existence and developed through the years for this very purpose. It is the opportunity, by building service ideals and moulding character in our youths, to influence the course of history.

A three-year program is underway to promote the "Forward On Liberty's Team" plan . . . designed not only to "let Freedom ring," but to "HELP Freedom ring." Plans of the highest moral standards for the greatest effectiveness have been laid and with the unselfish service of inspired and devoted leadership, our nation will be guided "Forward on Liberty's Team."

BOY SCOUTS TODAY . . . LEADERS OF TOMORROW

America's leaders of today are the Boy Scouts of yesterday. America's leaders of tomorrow are the Boy Scouts of today. For the past 44 years the Boy Scouts of America have been building in American youth those qualities of character and leadership which are the foundation of our strength, the shining hope of our future. To all members of the "Scout Family," Troop Leaders and Den Mothers and Fathers, Scouts and Cubs, we pledge our full support. May they long continue to march steadily "Forward on Liberty's Team."

Strain on Friendship

Only a few obstacles still remain in the path of United States participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

The seaway legislation pending in the House of Representatives must clear the Rules Committee. Its clearance of the Public Works Committee, however, indicates that opposition in the lower house is disintegrating.

Thereafter, if House members vote favorably, there will be nothing left but clearance of proposals for setting aside a $105,000,000 sum to capitalize the American share in a self-liquidating authority to be set up jointly by the United States and Canada.

While it is to be expected that other obstacles will be set up, besides the current court attempt to tie up the power-production arrangement between Ontario and New York, these eventually must yield to the logic of taking the last step to join the Great Lakes with the deep-water section of the St. Lawrence.

Ultimately, the project will be completed. Great Lakes ports will be placed in direct contact with deep-water shipping. Canada and the United States will have done jointly what Canada has wanted to do alone since the early years of the 20th century and has been able to do alone for many years.

Pressure blocs in the United States have tested international friendship to the limit by setting up one obstacle after another in a selfish fight against one of the most logical improvements men could make on nature—selfish because they feared the loss of small advantages through adding a great advantage to both the United States and Canada.

This Is a Game?

All loyal alumni of Notre Dame, including millions who attended that vernable institution in absentia, have nothing but the best wishes for their new football coach, Terry Brennan. Terry is a fine broth of an Irish lad who will carry on a great tradition.

It is a little sad, though, that the tradition is clouded by something that happened to Frank Leahy, Brennan's predecessor and most famous of the Notre Dame coaches since Knute Rockne, who laid down the specifications for the legend that grew up around the Fighting Irish.

Leahy was forced out of football coaching to conserve his health. The strain was too much for him to bear. The relentless pressure to win had become for Leahy and his doctors a source of danger as far removed from recreation as it would be possible to get.

Those great games which amuse, excite and gratify millions in the course of a football season are spectator sports only. There's scant recreation in them any more for players and no recreation at all for the coaches.

Dutch Winter

An account of almost 3,000 Netherlanders skimming over 120 miles of frozen rivers and canals in the eighth official skating marathon since 1909 keeps getting in the way of more important news.

Soldiers were given leaves so they could join the fun. Parliament changed its agenda so a cabinet minister could skate. The actual race was participated in by only 138 of the best skaters, in the fashion of the immortal Hans Brinker. All the others tagged along for the fun. Most skaters drop out before the finish.

The winner covered the 120 miles in 7½ hours — a 16-mile-an-hour pace. But the point is this — that in 45 years the great event has been held only eight times because it requires a severe winter to freeze the ice throughout the 120-mile course. This is a severe winter in The Netherlands.

The Dutch winter is reassurance, after a fashion, that the adage about weather hasn't been repealed. The more peculiar it is, the closer to normal.

A Mother's Solution

The terms "vandalism" and "juvenile delinquency" have been tossed about a lot in recent months. The only action noted, however, has been proposed studies and threats.

We've long been of the opinion that much of the impetus to curb youths straying from the straight and narrow should come from the home. Therefore it was interesting to note one Cleveland mother's response to the problem when it arose in her home a few days ago.

Her son had come home with an expensive birthday present for her. Unable to understand where he could have obtained the money, the woman quizzed him until he admitted taking it from a furniture store without paying for it.

Shortly thereafter, the firm received an anonymous letter from the mother telling what had happened and enclosing the money. Whether she had paid for it or returned it, we feel that the youth would have learned a lesson.

Parents of this caliber deserve commendation. They're the ones who will have the most effect on juvenile delinquency, not the experts who just talk about it.

Decision Urgent

By David Lawrence

Bricker Amendment Delay Hurts Both Parties

Avoidance of a decision now on the basic issues growing out of the debate over the Bricker amendment to the Constitution would be detrimental to the Republican party at the polls next November.

Perhaps that's the reason Sen. Knowland has been striving so hard to get a compromise, and perhaps it's the reason why various Democrats in the Senate are so eager to see the issue buried by sending the measure back to committee for further study.

Like many deep - seated issues, the widespread impact of which does not always appear on the surface, the Bricker amendment is far more than a controversy over legal technicalities.

The impatience of those who say it's too important to be acted on now and needs further study simply plays into the hands of those forces which want to pile up troubles for the Republican party this year.

The fundamental problem involved in the Bricker amendment is far better understood generally that it is by some of the lawyers here who are arguing against its phraseology.

It is no accident that the Bricker amendment has come up for consideration at this time, and furthermore it wasn't proposed suddenly. It has been debated before such organizations as the American Bar Association for the last several years, and approval was specifically given the Bricker amendment by the association after considerable study.

THE CONTROVERSY is reminiscent of how the debate started on the famous Article X in the League of Nations covenant when it was proposed by President Wilson back in 1919. At first it seemed a highly technical affair when opponents argued that the proposed treaty would require the United States to go to war to protect the independence and territorial integrity of every member nation.

By the time the small minority which started the fight got through, they had converted the public and had won the election of 1920, thus rejecting the League of Nations covenant altogether.

Had there been a spirit of compromise in time, the United States might have entered the League, the whole history of the '20's might have been different and World War II might have been averted—as Winston Churchill himself has so often declared in reviewing that fateful period in world history.

The public furor backing the demand for the Bricker amendment has arisen from the abuse of executive power by both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman in making far - reaching commitments in foreign policy without consulting the Senate.

It is not persuasive to say that President Eisenhower will be different. What one president has done in abusing power can be done by a future president. Incidentally, that's why the latest amendment to the Constitution prohibiting a third term was adopted — because Roosevelt used governmental power and funds to get himself elected to a fourth term. It was no answer to say no other president would try the same tactics.

THE PROPONENTS of the Bricker amendment have indicated a willingness to compromise so as to meet possible misinterpretations.

It is to the credit of men like Senators George and McCarran, Democrats, and Senators Knowland and Ferguson, Republicans, and others that conscientious efforts have been made by them to try to rewrite the amendment so as to make it satisfactory to two-thirds of the Senate.

If the Senate takes another week or two to debate and then act on the issue, it will not be time wasted.

If the Senate drops the issue because a two - thirds vote is not attainable for any compromise, the controversy will grow in intensity and bring about a split in both the Republican and the Democratic parties, but with more serious consequences to members of the Republican party, especially in the House of Representatives, whose members will be called upon to express themselves as candidates in primary and final campaigns this year.

Judging by the amount of organization work already done throughout the country and the likelihood that many influential bodies will take up the fight if nothing is done about it, the Bricker amendment controversy will play a leading part in the coming campaign.

The public attitude will not always be identifiable as a position for or against the Bricker amendment but may appear as a demand that congressional candidates stand up and be counted on the issue of permitting the executive alone to make commitments which could lead the nation into more wars.

EXECUTIVE agreements offer an even more vulnerable base for attack than the treaties, and there is plenty of ammunition for the campaign in the record of important executive agreements that have been made in disregard of the wishes of Congress and without being submitted to the Senate for approval or rejection.

If the American people are told that, by making a treaty with a foreign government with the approval of a two - thirds majority in the Senate — such a majority as President Roosevelt had in his own party early in his administration — a president can amend the Constitution and take away the people's rights, there will be a greater clamor next year for Bricker amendments of various kinds than there is today.

The obvious lesson is to write a compromise now and dispose of the issue.

Headache for U.S. Generals Abroad

By Norman Lindhurst

HEIDELBERG

American generals in Germany have a headache that causes them more sleepless nights than the Russians massed within cannon shot along Germany's frontier. This headache is the VIP—the very important person. He is a peculiary American institution, and he descends on the generals in droves.

As a rule the VIP is a harmless-looking little man. He usually wears spectacles and inclines to a pauch. He doesn't say much, but lets the generals do the talking. Take it from the generals, however, he's a menace all the same.

In the first place, the VIP is usually a congressman, a senator, a government official, an American diplomat or a business leader. The VIP is a claim to red-carpet treatment. If he doesn't get it, the offending general can be certain of getting a talking-to from the Pentagon when the VIP returns to Washington.

A SLIGHT to a VIP could—and has—caused the Army difficulty in getting an appropriation bill through Congress. Or getting a general's promotion cofirmed by Congress. So, when the VIP's touch down at Frankfort's Rhine-Main Airport, the generals snap to attention.

It is not so much the exalted VIP rank that gives the generals troubles. It's their numbers. You would be amazed at how many VIPs pour in on the American generals in Germany.

Last fall, for example, one-third of the entire American Congress traveled abroad on various "official" missions. Most of them dropped in on the generals in Germany "to see how our boys are getting on."

In a year Gen. Hoge, the U. S. commander-in-chief in Germany, and his subordinate commanders can count on visits from almost every top Department of Defense and State Department official in Washington. Business leaders, labor leaders and even Hollywood film stars—all armed with VIP rank—eddy in and out of Gen. Hoge's command.

TO ACCORD ALL of these VIPs the honors due to them presents a major problem in organization and planning. The generals have attacked this problem as they would a strictly military objective.

Staff studies are made and military units formed to administer protocol on a uniform, assembly-line pattern. Rank-conscious, the Army had grouped VIPs into Classes.

For first-class VIPs all the stops are pulled out. The visitor's military aircraft is met at Rhine-Main Airport by Gen. Hoge and four or five top generals. As a military band blares, the VIP, Class I, is whisked off the plane and into a waiting convoy of staff cars for the 50-mile run to U. S. Army Headquarters at Heidelberg. Military police jeeps, their sirens wide open, precede the swift line of shiny staff sedans.

In the turreted medieval city the VIP is taken to the Schloss Hotel, overlooking the Neckar Valley. This was the luxury hotel where the crowned heads of Europe used to stay on jaunts to Heidelberg. Now it is under U. S. Army requisition, and it caters only to generals—and VIPs, Class I.

Then follows a luncheon at U.S. Army Headquarters, a highly compressed briefing in the headquarters war room on the command's operations by chief of staff sections, and a dinner at the Schloss—with the generals as hosts.

THE NEXT DAY, with the generals acting as guides, the VIP "takes to the field" to inspect troop units. As a farewell gesture, he is tendered a full-dress military review. In fact the U.S. Army in Germany has three special units whose sole duty it is to present the meticulously staged review.

Just in case a foreign general or statesman should drop in, the 60d piece band that plays for the reviews maintains a library of 300 foreign anthems and marches.

For VIPS, Class II, the hospitality is more restrained, but still ample. Upon arrival the guest is met by a major and a staff car. He is quartered at one of the Army's first-class hotels in Frankfort or Munich, and is furnished with officer escort and car for the duration of his visit. If there are several VIPs, second grade, in a group, they may rate an official dinner, a briefing and even a short review.

Such is the machinery the generals have installed for the VIPs. And it seems to work. As an influential senator remarked, as the honor guard wheeled past in the special 30-minute review:

"To stand beneath the Stars and Stripes 3,000 miles from home, in a conquered land, and watch our boys go through their paces—well, that is an experience that sort of gets you."

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: As an ardent believer in the law of supply and demand, I have been following the great coffee conflict in pop-dyed amazement.

Apparently, no one dares to say out loud what 160 million Americans intend to do about the price of coffee. They will obey the law of supply and demand.

If they break the law, they will deserve to be punished for it, won't they? Even though it's a natural, not a man-made, law you can't break it without expecting to be punished.

We slurp up as much coffee in our house as the average, I suppose. We aren't coffee addicts by any means but we like the stuff for breakfast and alternate it with tea in the evening.

But if the price of coffee goes as high as some of the experts say it is going to go, we'll continue to cut down on our intake of coffee in proportion. That is what I mean by obeying the law of supply and demand. That is the way coffee consumers can keep the price of coffee from going out of sight. After all, being a coffee drinker isn't like being a dope addict.

The point to this is, of course, that an assumption is being made by politicians and some of the people in the coffee business that all of us are helplessly trapped in the coffee habit and cannot cut down our daily intake. I guess these boys haven't looked lately at what happened when the price of butter went out of reach. Today they're giving away butter to get rid of it. The law of supply and demand really worked with a vengeance in the case of butter.

There are oodles of things I'd use more of if the price came down, such as trips around the world, caviar, Cadillacs, carpeting and sea-going yachts. It's no skin off my nose if coffee becomes a luxury item, though I doubt that it will because too many people have a commercial interest in it. If I can get along without caviar, except once in a while when there's a special occasion, I can get along with less coffee. Or I could get along with less milk, tea, cocoa, grape juice, apple cider, or soda pop, all of which I drink.

That's why I am watching the great coffee conflict in pop-eyed amazement. There are politicians running loose who are preaching the proposition that the American people are such helpless victims of the coffee habit they cannot help themselves.

These saps seem to believe the government should step in to make sure every American citizen gets all the coffee he wants at a price he thinks he can afford to pay, instead of trimming his coffee consumption to the price the coffee people charge, until they are willing and able to make a readjustment.

What is happening to Americans nephew? Whatever became of the "Don't tread on me!" attitude? Ordinary people still have it but the politicians seem to believe their best pitch is to assume that Americans don't know how or want to take care of themselves any more. There must be votes in it.

Incidentally, that book "Mainspring of Human Progress" I mentioned last week was written by Henry Grady Weaver. I muffed the last name because I was relying on my faulty memory. Weaver knew all about the value of the "Don't tread on me!" attitude. That's the only secret weapon Americans ever possessed— their independence. Your aunt says hello and wonders if you saw your shadow on Groundhog Day.

Target Practice

By BILL VAUGHAN

Nature's foresight never ceases to surprise us. Think, for example, how clever it was of her to shape Italy like a boot centuries before the first editorial cartoonist came along to take advantage of the resemblance.

Daily Bible Thought

The gifts that some of us offer to the Infinite, of time and substance are an affront to a great king. After all the business of this life is to prepare for a higher life. We should try to give our best. Should I accept this at your hands? said the Lord. —Mal. 1:13.

She Spreads Kindness

By MARK DANA

While a lot of unpleasant things are going on in the world, a lot of grievous tensions and violent acts being recorded, let it not be forgotten that over on the other side of the globe a very charming young woman, Queen of the British Commonwealth of Nations, is traveling leisurely among her subjects and exchanging with them kind words of obvious sincerity.

Queen Elizabeth and her husband spent some time in New Zealand, that proud little island a thousand miles from Australia and lots more distant from anything else, assuring the New Zealanders that the affection was mutual. Long before her ship reached Australia, she was getting radio-spoken messages like this from high officials in Sydney: "The whole Commonwealth eagerly waits to welcome Your Majesty" and "As Your majesty approaches these shores, may I assure you that the thoughts of your Australian people are with you."

Let no cynics mar the touching beauty of such phrases (which were reciprocated in kind by the Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh) by muttering "corn" or "limelight politics." Everywhere the Queen has gone, she gets the same adulation. She has absolutely no jurisdiction over the Commonwealths; she reigns but does not rule; each of the Commonwealths is a sovereign nation.

Yet the sheer beauty and magic of the symbolism she so radiantly represents might be cited in these days when there doesn't seem much beauty or magic elsewhere. Her crown provides a mystical talisman, binding together the whites and blacks the sturdy English, the dourly independent Scots, the picturesque Welsh, the men of varied continents and islands, more firmly than any treaties or armed forces could achieve.

And despite all the mummery, the British concept of democracy and rule by the people is older than our own and works out in greater detail than our own. The British governing cabinet can be abolished overnight by a no-confidence vote. Only persons elected to Parliament may be named as Cabinet officers.

"Would you write 'Mrs.' before my name and drop it in the mail after this? I got married."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Elmer Tells All

Elmer Twitchell, who is easily influenced by events and trends, has handed his wife the following letter:

Dear Sweety Pie: This is just to tell you I am in love with a dozen or more other women and I knew you would want it in writing. I am enclosing the complete file as I know how much documentation means to domestic happiness, and now give you the names of all the persons for whom I have a deep affection, no matter how surprised they will be to know it. Here is the catalogue, and I am sorry if I have kept you waiting.

Tallulah Bankhead, the Rockettes, the Gabor Sisters, Jane Froman, Rita Hayworth, Marilyn Monroe, Oveta Culp Hobby, Miss Rheingold of 1953 (or it could be the 1952 or 1954 one as my memory is not too good and the years slip by so swiftly), Jeannie With the Nutbrown hair, Barbara Fritchie, Rosemary Clooney, Sonja Henie, Julie Harris, Hermione Gingold, the Ice Follies and an Ohio girl's hockey team.

I have also been in love with Guinevere, Pocohontas, Molly Pitcher, the Empress Josephine, Celeste Holm, Mary Martin, Kate Cornell, Josephine Hull, the entire junior class at Vassar and Deborah Kerr.

The rumors that I once asked the Seven Sutherland Sisters to elope with me are false, I think, but I want to be fair with you and will check again if you insist.

Why am I telling you all this? It is just a conscientious effort to make our marriage succeed. (Oh, the things I will do to make our marital happiness complete!)

I know how happy it makes a wife when a husband admits he has fallen in love with other women and I am determined to make our marriage succeed if I have to drag in every name I can spell, my dear. (Of course, you will understand that this is strictly between ourselves and that the purpose of a letter like this is to keep everything a deep secret that never will leak out. If I thought there was any danger of a wife referring to a letter like this, even if there was a terrible row, I would not name half the people I do.)

Even if by a remote chance you ever got fed up with me and saw your lawyer, I am sure you would never think of showing this letter. Wives always burn a communication like this the minute they get it, if not sooner.

Well, like I said, my purpose in this letter is just to make you and me happier, obtain domestic bliss and be fair to everybody, including people I may have mentioned who never heard of me. I don't want anybody hurt. And I hope you are the same, which reminds me I just fell in love with Greta Garbo, Gypsy Rose Lee, Miss America, Audrey Hepburn and Barnard College 1950.

Your ever-loving husband, Elmer.

P.S.—I don't know why I couldn't wait to tell you this when I came home from the office, but it just goes to show you are on my mind all the time, I guess.

Washington is holding a probe into the high cost of coffee . . . this should keep it in hot water.

Tragedy Watered Down

When Lux Video Theater undertook an hour-long and elaborate production of Theodore Dreiser's classic "An American Tragedy," it did not use the original title. Instead Lux used "A Place In The Sun," which was the name of the movie version, on the sensible assumption that many, many more people had seen the movie than had read or even heard of the book. This was just another example of the a classic from a book, to a screen treatment, to a TV drama, with just a little bit more being lost each time around.

J. CROSBY

DREISER'S NOVEL is a very long one filled with a wealth of bitter detail whose primary purpose is to weave a web of economic frustration around the two unfortunate lovers. It was society, especially its economic tyrannies, that was the villain, not the young man who had seduced a poor factory girl, got her pregnant and then abandoned her in favor of a daughter of the rich.

In the Lux version of the economic conditions which so preoccupied Dresier were pushed way in the background. Here the young man, George Eastman, simply met and fell in love with another girl, whose wealth was almost incidental. This drastically changes the emphasis of the story and makes it, in fact, a rather ordinary tale, the likes of which we can see most any night on "Suspense" or Martin Kane or what have you. Boy Meets New Girl. Boy Tries To Get Rid of Old Girl. Boy Lands In the Electric Chair. That is the contemporary twist on the Boy Meets Girl formula.

THERE WERE, it's true, sudden dramatic switches of locals from the grimy lodging house of the poor girl to the elegant country estate of the rich girl which made clear that the two girls lived in very different circumstances. Still, it was love, not social position or wealth, that propelled George Eastman into taking his pregnant sweetheart for a fatal rowboat ride and the tragedy becomes an accident of lust rather than an indictment of society.

Dreiser won recognition with "An American Tragedy" in 1925 after almost two decades in which his realism had aroused only scorn, contumely and indignation. By the time he won his battle for naturalism, it had become almost old hat and it still, to some degree, is. There is something curiously old-fashioned about this story of a girl ruined in such classic fashion.

IN OTHER RESPECTS, Dreiser is way ahead of us. Just recently, "The Moon Is Blue" got into lots of censor trouble because it spoke of seduction and pregnancy. Here, these things are committed, not simply discussed. Our prudery, it seems to me, has taken a turn for the worse. Things that shouldn't exist, we pretend don't exist, or, if they do exist, it's best not to write about them. If Dreiser had been a contemporary screenwriter, I doubt that he'd have written "An American Tragedy" at all, figuring it never would have got past the Breen office.

This particular Lux production, which was twice as long as the ordinary Lux shows, was one of the most lavish and expensive in *the history of live television. Pro*duced in CBS' Television City in Hollywood, it boasted sixty-seven actors and seventeen sets, which is about three times as many as those used on most TV dramas. Even the climactic scene when the rowboat tips over in a mountain lake was done live by some sort of camera trickery (which, frankly, wasn't very convincing.)

IT'S ENCOURAGING that television, in such a few short years, has taken such vast strides in overcoming the physical limitations of live staging. I just hope, though, that the producers don't get so wrapped up in technical perfection, don't get so immersed in the scenery that they ignore the writers and the actors, something which is quite likely to happen in Hollywood.

George Eastman was played by John Derek, a movie actor, who was once labelled by Red Smith as an "indescribably beauteous" young man, which indeed he is. Mr. Derek's long, long hair is worn with a nice curl in the front and sort of pleated in the back. I'd like to run through it barefoot with a scythe. He is a stone-faced actor whose tortured face changed not a muscle whether he was kissing Ann Blyth or contemplating the murder of his sweetheart. As Angela Vickers Miss Blyth was very pretty and fashionably husky-voiced and breathless. Marilyn Erskine played the unfortunate Alice Tripp, a thankless role, competently but without stirring up much pity.

Effects of Comic Books Topic for Youth Panel

"Effects of Comic Books on Youth" will be the topic under discussion by the Marion Youth Forum at 3 p.m. Sunday over WMRN.

Guest moderator will be Miss Clara Alice Wilson, principal of Pearl Street School, and the adult guest panelists will be Warren and Dick Meister, operators of the Meister Brothers Drug Store on S. Prospect St.

Crimes of the Times

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Crimes of the times: Luther Allen Hatfield, 46, was sentenced to five days in jail and fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge G. W. Marriott after he admitted stealing a 63-cent jar of instant coffee from a Mansfield grocery store.

The Potomac River Valley above Washington, D.C., is rich in Indian remains. Little, however, has yet been done to investigate them.

News of Granges

WHETSTONE

A committee was appointed for a euchre party Feb. 13 when Whetstone Grange met Monday night at the grange hall.

Members of the committee are Miss Wanda Klingel, Mrs. Thelma Watzel, Mrs. Inez Burton and Mrs. Ernest Klingel.

A chili supper was served by a committee of Mrs. Carl Klingel, Mrs. Dorothy Dutt and Mrs. Paul Klingel and degree practice was held.

GRAND PRAIRIE

Final plans were discussed for a polio benefit supper Feb. 13 at the school when Grand Prairie Grange met Tuesday night.

William Hutchman showed colored slides for the program. It was voted to send contributions in answer to two appeals for aid. The grange will meet again on the first Tuesday in March.

An announcement was made of the Pomona Grange meeting Feb. 6 at Pleasant School and two applications for membership were read.
